

City Will Get Poles Returned

4 to Be Replaced On Arterial Route

Preliminary work toward the street light system in the city's traffic pattern area of the arterial route project was noted at Thursday's Board of Public Works meeting.

Of four light poles taken from the area, two were removed recently, and others are to go. The poles are city property and are credited as such.

John Arborio Inc., of Poughkeepsie, contractor of the project, will be responsible for installation of new aluminum mast-arm type poles in the area, and the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., has been working on the conduit system for wiring. The light poles, it is expected, will not be installed until the traffic channels and sidewalks are built. That phase of the project is due to be completed before cold weather.

City to Be Responsible

Light fixtures and luminaires are to be the city's responsibility after the new lights are installed. Light poles removed from the area, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today, will be used to replace others in relatively poor condition elsewhere in the city. Some, the mayor anticipates, will be placed on Albany Avenue beyond the arterial route area.

The board, which has been meeting for several years in the afternoon, decided to try at least a few meetings at 7 p. m., on its regular meeting date, the third Wednesday of each month. The change, it was felt, would cause less conflict with business hours of board members. Recent meetings have been slated to start at 1 p. m.

It was voted to notify the Municipal Civil Service Commission of the board's decision to appoint Miss Marilyn Lindhurst, of 34 TenBroeck Avenue, as a permanent public works department stenographer. She has completed a probationary year.

Lighting Approved

Street light improvements were approved for Post and Hunter Streets; Rock and Ulster, Rock and Kingston, Downs Street and Smith Avenue, Boulevard and Kingsburg Avenue, at a point on Kingsburg Avenue, and another on Taylor Street. One proposed for New Street at Montrose Avenue, was left for further study.

The city gained a credit of $133.10 through recent removal of two light poles in the arterial route project area.

Several sums due for contract work were ordered paid. They were: James Berardi, Kingston, $3,865.00; and $342.00 for work on different projects; Joseph Gruner, Highland, $120.28; William VanKleeck Sons, Inc., $122.70; and Augustus Brinnier, Kingston, $75.00.

Herter, Lloyd Meet

LONDON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today began a survey of East-West relations ranging over the Berlin crisis, disarmament, and a nuclear weapon test ban.

The two opened their discussions in preparation for President Eisenhower's weekend conference with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Held on Arms Charge

Paul Garanes, 22, of 231 East 95th Street, New York City, was arrested by state police in the town of Shandaken Thursday on a charge of illegal possession of a firearm and on being arraigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly of the Town of Ulster, was held for grand jury action. Garanes allegedly was shooting in the woods with a .22 calibre revolver. On investigation it was disclosed he did not have the proper license.

Mercury Hit 90

10 Years Ago for Span of 53 Days

Think it's been hot this summer?

Consider 10 years ago when the mercury hit 90 degrees and above for 53 days from early June through Aug. 31, and during that sweltering summer highs of 100 and above were reported on nine days.

This season we've had 43 days of 90 and above, and a day in June when the mercury hit 100. August, to date, this year has had 15 days of temperatures in the 90's, July had 18, and June 10. The 1949 totals were: June 17, July 22 and August 14.

Yesterday's 94 at 2:15 p. m., topped the week, to date, Wednesday's high was 92. This day, as early as 11 a. m., threatened to be another hot one with the mercury at 84.

The overnight low today was 69. That of yesterday was 72, and Wednesday's was 60.

McKneally Has No Opposition

Notes Great Struggle For Souls and Minds

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A bachelor lawyer from Newburgh, N.Y., was elected commander of the American Legion Thursday at the closing session of the 41st national convention.

Martin B. McKneally, 44, was elected without opposition. There was a booming "aye" when a California delegate moved he be chosen by acclamation.

Delegates said McKneally was the first bachelor to hold the $18,000 a year office. He was drafted in 1941 and left the Army as a major at the end of World War II.

"It cannot but help make any man humble as he receives this mantle," McKneally told the cheering delegates.

Times Are Grave

"We live in gravely troubled times," he said. "We are engaged in a great struggle for the minds and souls of men, a struggle that will continue throughout our lifetime."

Rabbi Robert Kahn, Houston, Tex., was elected chaplain. Vice commanders chosen were William G. Brennan, Indianapolis, A. Layman Harmon, Lexington, S.C.; Charles C. McGonegal, Sunol, Calif.; Nate Keller, Virginia, Minn.; and Willard W. Brandt, Linton, N.D.

Auxiliary Officers
Mrs. Alexander Gray, Brownsville, Tenn., was named president of the Legion Auxiliary. Vice presidents were Mrs. Lester Nimmon, Canton, Ohio; Mrs. Marion O'Connor, Middletown, Conn.; Mrs. H. Milton Davidson, Clovis, N.M.; and Mrs. LeRoy Daniel Sweeney, Larimore, N.D.

At 44, McKneally stands as erect as the cadets of West Point. Roman features and slightly grayed hair complete the picture of McKneally, considered one of the most eligible bachelors in his home city, Newburgh, N.Y.

McKneally's attitudes typify that of the American Legion. "I like men charged with dedication to their country. I like them unabashed in patriotism and conscious of the essential brotherhood of men. I like men who are responsive to the will of people. And I like religious men."

McKneally, an attorney, was born in Newburgh and was graduated from Holy Cross College and Fordham Law School. He was drafted in March 1941 and left the Army as a major at the end of World War II.

Since that time he has spent a considerable amount of time in legion work and was New York State commander in 1956.

President And Queen In Visit

Macmillan Talks Set for Weekend

BALMORAL, Scotland (AP) — President Eisenhower broke into his diplomatic mission to Western Europe today with a social visit to Britain's royal family at Balmoral Castle. Queen Elizabeth II made a completely unexpected appearance to the gates to welcome him.

"Well, well, I'm delighted to see you," said the Queen, slim and elegant though she is expecting her third child early next year.

Eisenhower bowed and said: "Thank you ma'am. It's wonderful to be here."

Friendly Beginning

It was a friendly and informal beginning for Eisenhower's overnight visit.

Surprisingly, the Queen not only came out to see Eisenhower but did it on television.

The President had driven 50 miles with Prince Philip in a car from the airport at Dyce to cheers of crowds along the way.

The Queen — who danced until the early hours this morning at a castle ball for her servants — presented the President to Princess Margaret.

The Queen wore a powder blue suit with shirt jacket. Her skirt snugly hugged her hips.

Inspect Royal Guard

The Queen, whose baby is expected in late January or February — certainly showed no physical signs of it. With Eisenhower, she inspected the royal bodyguard, Royal Highland Fusiliers.

Then together with Prince Philip, they took the palace car from the gateway for the half-mile drive to the gloomy old castle built amid these melancholy moors by Queen Victoria.

The President flew up from London in a Royal Air Force jetliner to Dyce Airport near Aberdeen, then drove 50 miles through the Deeside country with Prince Philip, the Queen's husband.

Books on Russia Sought by Library

Books dealing with Russia and Communism are sought by Kingston City Library, J. Richard Shults, president of the library's board of trustees, revealed today.

Khrushchev's scheduled visit to the nation, he noted, "is stirring interest," and "our better books" on the above subjects "are always out."

Three of these, he said, are: "Inside Russia," Gunther; "My Russian Journey," Santha Rama Rau, and "What We Must Know About Russia," Overstreet.

"We wish the public," he said, "would contribute copies of these, and any other good, recent books on the subjects."

The library would like "to devote a special shelf to this topic" but books available are in poor condition.

Russell Releases School Bus Data For Tillson Area

Reginald D. Russell, transportation supervisor for the Kingston City School District (Consolidated) today released his interpretation for residents of the Tillson area of the policy regulations adopted by the board of education relating to transportation of students.

According to Russell's interpretation of the policy, all high school and parochial school students (Grades 7-12) will be transported. Grade 7 of Tillson will attend George Washington School. Parochial school pupils attending Grades (K-6) who reside more than one mile from St. Peter's School will be transported to that school.

Russell stated the one-mile limit on Route 32 (south) is the Mollenhauer farm near the Wallkill bridge, and the one mile limit on Route 32 (north) is Parkercrest Estates near Sportsman's Park. The one-mile limit on Springtown Road south is the intersection of the River Road and north is the Village of Rosendale.

A feeder bus will operate on Springtown Road and on the Grist Mill Road to bring high school and parochial school students to meet the bus at the post office and to transport (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Area Sculptor Is Dead

Work of Belle Kinney Is Well Known

BOICEVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Belle Kinney, sculptor, died at her home here Thursday.

Miss Kinney was best known for her statues and busts of President Andrew Jackson.

In private life she was Mrs. Belle Kinney Scholz, widow of sculptor Leopold Scholz who died in 1946.

Miss Kinney recently completed a heroic figure of President James K. Polk, which is still in the studio attached to her home. This figure and one of Jackson were ordered for the Tennessee state capitol in Nashville.

In 1933 she and her husband did the bronze figure of Victory and other sculpture for the World War I memorial grove in Pelham Bay Park, The Bronx, New York City. Twenty years later, her heroic bust of John Ross, chief of the Cherokee nation and founder of Chattanooga, Tenn., was unveiled at the New York Times auditorium in New York City.

Among examples of Miss Kinney's work are the World War I monument in Nashville and statues and busts of John Sevier, first governor of Tennessee.

She is represented at the hall of fame at New York University, New York City, and at the Senate Statuary Hall in the Capitol in Washington.

Miss Kinney's bust of Adm. Albert Gleaves was presented to Nashville by the U. S. government in 1939.

Miss Kinney leaves a brother, William Frank Kinney of New York City, and two sisters, Dr. De Lan Kinney, a Boiceville dentist, and Mrs. Herman Renner of Chattanooga.

State Collects $317,900,000 On Income Withholding Tax

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York State has collected $317,900,000 in income taxes since April, when the payroll-withholding system went into effect.

The amount indicates Gov. Rockefeller estimated accurately that the collection for the full fiscal year will be 715 million dollars, Joseph H. Murphy, the governor's tax commissioner, said Thursday.

Democrats have charged that the Republican governor underestimated the amount he expected the state to collect through a higher tax rate and the withholding plan.

One Democrat, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, has said the yield would be 80 million dollars above Rockefeller's estimate.

This year taxes for 12 months are being collected in 9 months—April through December. Withholding in future years will be over a 12-month span.

The $317,900,000 was collected through Aug. 21.

The bulk of the money, $138,700,000, represented taxes withheld by employers from workers' pay from April through June. The payment was due July 31 but some employers were late.

Nearly 500,000 taxpayers paid another $114,900,000. They are required to file estimates and pay part or all of the tax on income not subject to withholding. Their payments were due June 15.

A total of $14,300,000 was collected from miscellaneous tax sources. This category included final installments from the old quarterly payment system and the 1958 taxes on capital gains and estates and trusts.

None of these taxes were cancelled in the general "forgiveness" of 1958 income taxes that accompanied the switch to withholding.

The Tax Department said it refunded $10,600,000 to people who paid 1958 taxes before they were cancelled. This left the state a net gain of $307,300,000.

'Last Chance Measure'

Congress Dares Veto, Approves Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A defiant Congress, turning a deaf ear to Republican veto warnings, today handed President Eisenhower a "last chance" billion-dollar housing bill.

Party lines fell apart Thursday as the House, by a topheavy 283-105 vote, completed congressional action on a $1,050,000,000 bill that contained the same features that prompted a housing veto last month.

He's Record at Stake
At stake was the President's perfect record of never having a veto overridden. This time the House virtually dared him to challenge its action.

The overwhelming vote far exceeded the two-thirds necessary to override. The Senate vote, on Aug. 19, likewise was by a overriding majority of 72-14.

With adjournment fever mounting, and House leaders looking forward to quitting by next week-end, the President was confronted with a take-it-or-leave-it proposition.

"If President Eisenhower wants a housing bill, this is his last chance," proclaimed Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala.), sponsor of the bill and Democratic housing spokesman.

First One Excessive
When the President vetoed the first $1,375,000,000 housing bill as excessive, he hit at new public housing authority, loans to extend the government into college classroom construction, and other features.

And in a message last Tuesday, Eisenhower told Congress to limit itself to extending the authority of the Federal Housing Administration to insure home mortgages. This insurance authority, which does not involve additional funds, is already about five billion dollars in excess of congressional limitations.

Leaders of Staffs Discuss Opening Of School Sept. 9

The administrative and supervisory staff of the Kingston city schools, consolidated, met Thursday in the high school library with Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools.

Franklin H. Hazard, assistant superintendent of schools, and Donald E. Sweeney, principal at school No. 4, were introduced to the staff. The superintendent of schools reviewed the many problems faced by the Kingston schools for the opening session in September. These include enrollment problems, building plans and improvement of the academic status of the children.

Hazards On Roads Concern

Says Some Taxes Higher Since Link

Nothing in the education law prohibits the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) from following the same policy in regard to transportation as had been in existence prior to consolidation.

This was the contention today of Rogers Murphy, chairman of the Kingston Rural Area School Committee, in a reply to Robert Herzog, president of the education board.

Hazard Main Concern
The committee is pressing for transportation by school bus for students who have to traverse "hazardous" roadways in the area regardless of distance from schools.

Herzog said in a letter printed Thursday that the board felt that parents are responsible for children's attendance at schools if they are ineligible under the transportation distance as established.

State law stipulates that transportation shall be furnished for elementary school children living two miles from schools and for secondary pupils living three miles away.

The Kingston education board made a concession reducing the number of miles to one for elementary pupils and two for secondary students. But it is standing fast on the ruling that the state law does not mention being responsible for hazards on roads.

Says Assurance Given
Murphy claims in his reply to Herzog that "We can only rely upon the assurance given us by those assigned to address rural parents prior to consolidation that the previously existing transportation policies would be continued."

He further claimed that it was one of the inducements to bring consolidation about.

Denials have been made by the board that such was the case.

Relative to parental responsibility, Murphy and families are paying school taxes that in many cases are higher than those assessed prior to consolidation, and pointed out that not every parent has access to vehicular transportation to provide safety for children.

Murphy pointed out that state aid in the amount of approximately $465,000 is made available for rural students alone exclusive of such aid as is based on attendance. He'd use some of it for transportation.

Murphy's Letter
Murphy said to Herzog in his letter today:

After a lapse of one month and eleven days following the hearing of the plea and the filing of the petition of over thirty-five hundred rural residents within the Consolidated School District and represented by our committee, the Board of Education has once again seen fit to re-affirm its position in regard to the transportation problem.

Many at Opening Of Dutchess Fair

Gates to the 114th annual Dutchess County Fair in Rhinebeck opened at 9 o'clock this morning amid prediction by officials that this year's event will be "the biggest and best yet."

The fair will run for six days and nights, closing at midnight next Wednesday, Sept. 2. Gates to the fair open each day at 9 a. m.

Free grandstand attractions will be featured each day of the fair at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Sunny skies greeted early arrivals at the Rhinebeck Fair Grounds this morning and by closing time of the first day tonight fair officials were expecting many thousands to pass through the gates.

Paul Rosenthal, fair president, earlier this week told The Freeman that "with any kind of favorable weather, attendance is sure to hit an all-time high."

Many improvements have been made to the fair area, including a new $12,000 rest room, and a new picnic area with tables and benches.

Some of the best beef and dairy cattle herds as far north as Canada and as far south as the Carolinas will be included in this year's livestock judging.

Oil Celebration Continues After 100th Birthday

TITUSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The age of oil was one century and one day old today.

The oil industry's great centennial celebration continues at Titusville, the hometown of oil, after the actual 100th birthday party Thursday. The celebrations today called for carnivals and dancing in this small northwestern Pennsylvania community.

The centennial week ends Saturday with parades, a ball, fireworks and other parties.

Sen. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the oil-regulating Texas Railroad Commission, said, in one of the key speeches of the centennial celebration, that the United States certainly is not running out of oil.

The United States can produce three barrels more of oil per day "than we are now producing from the wells presently drilled at their most efficient rate," he said.

"It is a remarkable achievement that in this 100th year of oil, and after the production of 62 billion barrels of oil, we find ourselves with a reserve of 37 billion barrels of oil and a gas reserve of 260 trillion cubic feet, both the largest in the history of 100 years of oil," Thompson said.

Edwin L. Drake of New Haven, Conn., dug the world's first commercial oil well near Titusville on Aug. 27, 1859. Many wells are still producing in Western Pennsylvania.

After striking oil, Drake became known as Colonel Drake, but that was purely an unofficial title. He died a poor man a score of years after hitting the oil.

Drake was made an official colonel this week.

His commission in the Pennsylvania National Guard was presented as one of the highlights of Oil Centennial Week to his two granddaughters — Mrs. Peter Kalish of East Haven, Conn., and Mrs. Marie Carver of Bittelford, Me.

Woman Will Die In Chair, Killed Her Lover's Wife

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Eddy Klump, today was sentenced to death in Ohio's electric chair Dec. 15 for the slaying of her lover's wife.

Just before the sentencing in Hamilton County Criminal Court, her attorney read a statement prepared by Mrs. Klump which accused William Bergen of killing his estranged wife.

Mrs. Klump, 41, tight lipped and showing no outward emotion, was convicted last July 2 of killing Bergen's wife, Louise, 32, on Oct. 30, 1958.

Mrs. Klump and Bergen had been living together for five months.

A Losing Business

A major difficulty in getting the Government back on an even fiscal keel is that taxes cannot be raised to produce much more revenue without smashing the entire economy.

One thing would help: Get the Federal Government out of every business in which it is engaged. It's about 700; and not one of them pays its way.

Ask any of the experts on the Government payroll to name one—not two—just one that does pay its way.

Ex-President Hoover says: "If you temporize with Socialism in any of its disguises, you will stimulate its growth and make certain the defeat of free men."

The Government produces no wealth. It must take from someone every dime it gives to anyone. All "giveaways" are "takeaways."

Every time the politicians toss a bone to a favorite dog they levy a tax on the whole kennel.

The income tax is used not alone to provide Government with funds to transact its legitimate affairs, but as a means to redistribute the wealth.

Money isn't everything, but it's way ahead of whatever is in second place—if it is in your pocket.

As honest Abe Lincoln said: "I don't believe in a law to prohibit a man from getting rich; it would do more harm than good."

Neighbor, this is your country. Demand that Government get out of business; otherwise all authority will be centralized in our National Government.

DeGaulle Sounds Out Opinion on Algerian Future

ALGIERS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle, sounding out army opinion on Algeria's possible future, met today with Gen. Jacques Massu, who commands the Algiers region.

Massu played a leading role in the May 13 revolt last year which brought De Gaulle to power and led to establishment of France's Fifth Republic.

The meeting took place at Karichia, a hamlet in the western part of Algiers.

De Gaulle's inspection tour is believed aimed at finding out just how far the army is ready to follow him if he decides to propose some nonmilitary situation for ending the nationalist rebellion now in its fifth year.

PO Chief Urges War to End on Filth in Mails

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield urged a "war to the finish" today on what he called filth racketeers who prey on the nation's young people.

He said postal inspectors estimate that as many as one million school-age children will receive "pornographic filth in the family mailbox" this year. This would be one out of every 35 children of school age.

In most cases, he told senators starting an investigation, the material is not ordered but is received by the children because their names landed on a mailing list.

Summerfield asked for legislation to plug legal loopholes which he said hamper efforts to crack down on mailers of obscene materials. But effective action also will require the cooperation of an aroused citizenry, he said.

Spurned Suitor, Who Shot Woman, Suicide Victim

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — A man who shot a young mother of two when she refused to go steady died today of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Charles Hatz, 27, of nearby Cohoes, critically wounded Mrs. Theresa Peters, 25, Thursday night in her basement apartment here. Her children, 4 and 2, were witnesses.

Police gave this account: Mrs. Peters, legally separated from her husband, Bernard, had been dating Hatz occasionally for about six months. He was a truck driver but had been out of work recently.

Thursday night, he went to her home and pleaded with her to go steady with him. They argued.

"I don't want to keep steady company with you or anyone else," she told him. "I want my liberty and my own weekends."

He produced a .22 calibre revolver. "If you go steady with me, I will throw the gun in the river," he said.

She refused. "Theresa," he told her, "I'm going to kill you."

Hatz shot her in the left temple and she toppled onto a couch.

Mrs. Peters' sister, Mrs. Mary Belcher, 27, visiting at the apartment, and the victim's children, Bernice, 4, and Doreen, 2, saw the shooting.

Hatz fled.

Police found him later in his own apartment. He had turned on the gas and, when he heard the police coming, shot himself in the head with the revolver. He died in Albany Hospital.

Mrs. Peters also was taken to Albany Hospital.

Blonde Is Chosen N. Y. Fair Queen

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A tall, blue-eyed blonde from Schenectady, was chosen today to be queen of the New York State Fair of 1959.

Judges selected Carol Youmans, 19, on the basis of personality, poise and beauty, from a field of 18 regional contestants sponsored by newspapers.

Miss Youmans stands 5'7 and measures 36-24-35. She weighs 125. She is a secretary-receptionist at the Knolls Atomic Energy Laboratory near Schenectady. She skis on water and snow, swims, cooks and participates in musical and dramatic activities.

She was sponsored by the Schenectady Union-Star after a local contest.

"Why did I deserve something so wonderful?" she exclaimed when she heard the announcement.

She did not say immediately which prize she would choose. She can have a $500 scholarship to any college or special school, a $500 wardrobe or $500 in cash.

She will reign over the annual state fair at Syracuse Sept. 4-12. Judges of the contest were: Dr. Louis Frohman, president of Russell Sage College; Miss Bonnie Jo Marquis, of Huntington, L. I.; Miss New York State in the Miss America contest; and State Tax Commissioner Joseph M. Murphy.

Polio Cases Hit Peak for '59; 6 Over Last Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paralytic polio cases—with all states reported except Nevada—reached a new 1959 weekly high of 285 last week. But the figure was only six above the previous week.

The Public Health Service reported this today. Simultaneously it said it will likely be another year or two before live polio virus vaccines are licensed for general use in this country. It urged use of the Salk polio vaccine.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney made public a new report on the present status of three proposed live virus vaccines which said several major problems remain to be solved.

"If energetic efforts are continued to find answers to the remaining technical questions concerning safety, effectiveness and manufacturing procedures, one or more of the three vaccines now being proposed may be under production within one to two years," Burney said.

Congress Unlikely To Quit Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders of both parties agreed today that there is no prospect of congressional adjournment next week.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), acting majority leader, told reporters, "I don't see how we can complete our work next week."

Brett to Offer Technical Paper On Fire Hazard

A technical paper that could lead to a new concept on fire hazard cause and effect will be introduced by Fire Chief James M. Brett, of Kingston, at the 86th Conference of the International Association of Fire Chiefs in Grand Rapids, Mich., next week, it was learned today.

The chief, as author of the paper, has already been notified that it is being considered for study by the Committee of Fire Research, National Academy of Science, Washington, D. C., and the Educational Facilities Laboratory, Ford Foundation, New York.

The Grand Rapids conference opens next Monday and continues through Thursday.

A resolution calling for more effective use of sprinkler systems, has been approved by major fireman organizations in the nation. It was introduced by Chief Brett last year.

Points in the new technical paper, if fully proved, it is noted, will void a concept that has been effective in the past century. It defined largely with the point that temperature, rather than fire alone is a primary consideration in determining a fire hazard potential.

The Ford Foundation unit is sponsor of experiments now underway in an abandoned Los Angeles school building, where the sprinkler system, has already been cited as the most effective first-line defense against destructive and disastrous fires.

Murphy Suggests

adoption of a limited school transportation policy as hereinbefore announced by the Board. Our Committee is fully aware and has been advised of the legal requirements for transportation of school children as set forth within the Education Law. This Law however creates no fixed legal requirements.

As stated in your letter of August 25th, The Law merely states that no school district must furnish transportation to elementary students living less than two miles and secondary students living less than three miles, from the schools which they attend. Nothing therein prohibits the Board from following the same policy in regard to transportation as had been in existence prior to consolidation.

You cite in your letter the predominance of parental responsibility in this matter. May we submit that this responsibility is first to be discharged by the payment of school taxes which many cases is higher than those assessed prior to consolidation.

May we further state that not every parent has access to vehicular transportation with which to provide safe means of transportation for their children. On the other hand, we must inquire as to the extent of the responsibility of the Board of Education, especially in view of the fact that State Aid in the amount of approximately $465,000 is made available for rural students alone exclusive of such aid as is based upon attendance. It is our position that expenditure of some of these additional funds in the protection of the lives and welfare of our children is not only indicated but, under these circumstances, a necessity.

We can only rely upon the assurances given us by those assigned to address the rural parents prior to consolidation in an effort to induce us to vote for consolidation. These repeated assurances led us inexorably to the conclusion that the previously existing transportation policies would be continued if consolidation were adopted. Having thus been induced to vote for and thus permit consolidation we now find the assurances so made to have been without basis in fact.

We ask only that those assurances be honored, and that the protection afforded our children in relation to transportation prior to consolidation be perpetuated. We implore the Board to reverse its position to limit transportation, to permit the funds so allocated by the State to be utilized for transportation and to consider not only the distance from point to point but the definite hazards to the lives and welfare of our children which have so often been expressed to your Board.

It is our fervent hope and prayer that we shall not have to stand by helplessly observing the maiming or death of any of our children simply by reason of the fact that they reside within two or three miles of their school.

We commend this grave situation to your further consideration.

Return to Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Lewis and their son Roger came to Canada from England 10 years ago and last year decided to return to return to England. Now they're back here again, saying: "Old friends in England had dispersed, taxes were high and wages low."

Crews Fail to Report

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The yard crews of the New York Central Railroad here and in Batavia did not report for work today, crippling the handling of local freight.

Passenger trains and through freight trains were not affected. About 40 men on the day shift reported ill in Rochester. Three failed to show up at Batavia.

A. J. Conklin, train master, said he could not reach union officials to find out the reason for the walkout. The men are represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Ike Invites Monty

LONDON (AP) — President Eisenhower has invited Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery to a dinner party for a number of wartime colleagues.

Montgomery said today he has accepted. There has been much recent speculation whether Montgomery would be present in view of his published criticism of Eisenhower's strategy in World War II.

Reports Thefts to Police

Howard Slater, of 72 Broadway, notified police Thursday night that two snow tires and wheels, valued at $50 had been taken from his garage between Aug. 23 and Thursday.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ETHICS OF ADVERTISING

What it means to you
The Advertiser
How it protects you
The Reader

Classified Advertising, as it is known today, is the oldest form of advertising. Its origin being traced back more than 250 years to the early days of newspapers. A time when all other accepted forms of advertising had not yet been devised by man.

Classified Advertising is the only advertising media of the great masses of the public. The place where the people, who make up any community, can for a low cost, make known to thousands their wishes, desires, wants and needs. Because Classified Advertising is the media where people place their OWN advertising . . . it is the media they just naturally turn to when they have a want or need.

Business men, having recognized that Classified Advertising is one of the most powerful of all "Public Announcement" media, also utilize the people's advertising market place to offer for sale their merchandise and services in an effort to assist you, the reader and user of classified, in solving your wants, needs and desires.

Because classified advertising is your advertising media, The Kingston Daily Freeman has established many rules of ethics in advertising governing the placing of advertising. These rules are for the protection of the reader and advertiser alike. They assure the reader of a clean cut, clear and honest presentation of the items advertised. These same rules protect the business concerns against unfair, misleading advertising of the unscrupulous . . . thereby maintaining readership at the highest possible level.

Readership of advertising . . . means results for all. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of the best edited, best checked advertising media in America. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of world leaders in maintaining clean advertising columns.

You, as a reader; and you, as an advertiser, are invited to assist us in maintaining advertising results at the highest possible level by discussing any and all advertising that has not given you an accurate picture of the product or service advertised.

Artificial Comets Are Close: Reds

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets claim they are close to developing new and more powerful "artificial comets" that could be seen if they reach the planet Mars, at least 50 million miles away.

The idea, a Soviet report translated here says, would be to provide a space-probing rocket with a kind of tail light consisting of a cloud of chemical gas having high reflective powers for sunlight.

Such a device, the Soviets claim, could automatically and visually signal the arrival of the rocket in the vicinity of Mars even if radio communication at such a great distance failed.

The cloud of gas, automatically belched from the rocket, would also allow new tests of the density and temperature of the gas that fills interplanetary space, Soviet scientists say.

The Soviet report, translated and distributed by the U. S. Department of Commerce, declared the new possibilities stem from initial success with a form of "artificial comet" arrangement used in the Soviet rocket Mecha launched last January.

Mecha was equipped with a device that spewed out a cloud of sodium gas which the Soviets claim they spotted.

Building principals and department directors are planning meetings with teachers for the afternoon on Tuesday.

Anjopa Firm Is Reportedly Sold At $250,000 Price

The American Paper and Board Manufacturing Co., Inc., had taken over the former Anjopa Paper Manufacturing Company, Inc., plant at Napanoch from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, receivers of Home National Bank of Ellenville. The price is reported to be about $250,000.

The land and mill were taken over by the FDIC as a result of its liquidation of the assets of the Home National Bank of Ellenville which failed in 1956.

American Paper and Board Manufacturing Co., Inc., of which Joseph Lazar and Sidney Gursey are principals, intends to operate the mill to manufacture paper board, boxes and other paper products. The purchasers were represented by Abrams and Roth, as counsel, and the seller was represented by its Assistant General Counsel, John Cecil.

Mayor Is Hopeful Of Park Facility By State Letter

A request for use of a section of Ashokan Reservoir property owned by New York City for a state park facility, has been given due attention by Armand D'Angelo, New York's Commissioner, Department of Water Supply Gas & Electricity, Mayor Edwin F. Radel revealed today.

Mayor Radel said he received what he considers "a most encouraging letter" from D'Angelo, who said State Conservation Commissioner Wilm and another state official "had recently discussed this situation personally" with D'Angelo.

An area south-southwest of the reservoir's headworks buildings near the dividing weir, Town of Olive the mayor said, has been mentioned for possible use as a park or recreational facility.

D'Angelo reported that "The matter is being explored to determine the most satisfactory manner in which it can be resolved, with full consideration being given all equities (value of land, taxes, etc.) The mayor will be informed of progress, the letter said.

The mayor recently made an Albany bid to get a state park facility for the Kingston area. In his reply to D'Angelo, he promised full cooperation in future exploration of the reservoir property proposal.

machine-gun monotony, knocked down successive Republican-backed efforts to revise the bill and kill features already denounced as objectionable by the President.

On final passage, 54 Republicans and 229 Democrats voted for the bill. Only 76 Republicans and 29 Democrats voted against it.

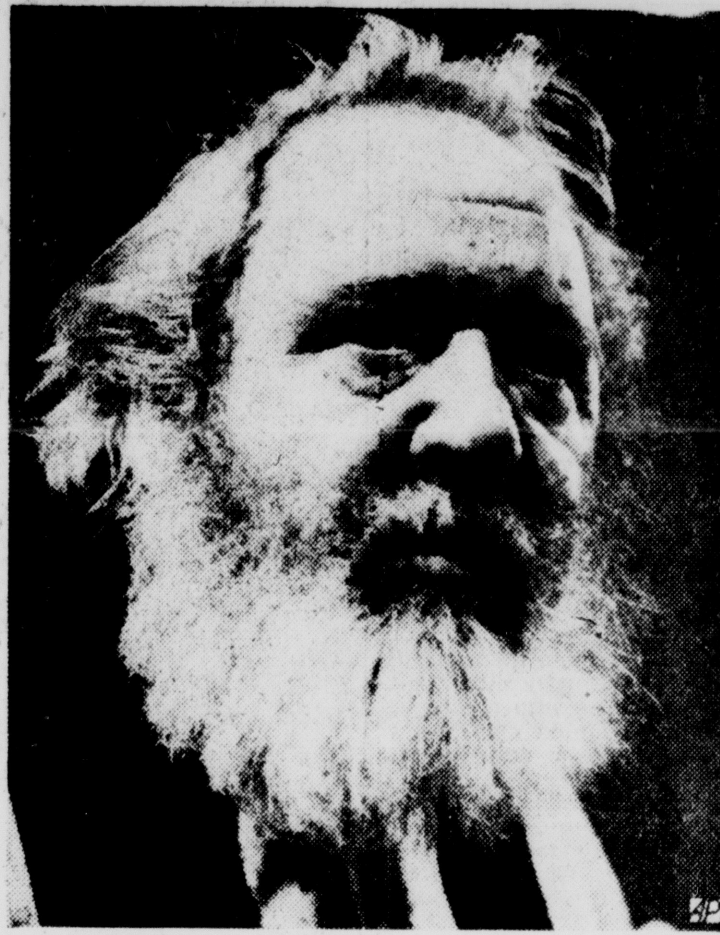

Principal features retained in the bill over Eisenhower's objections were 37,000 new units of public housing, an entirely new program of federal loans for college classrooms, a one-year "crash" program of 650 million dollars for city slum elimination, and a one-year cutoff date on FHA mortgage insurance authority.

Exploration of the Arctic region has spread over more than 2,000 years. The first-known Arctic explorer was Pytheas, a Greek, who seems to have traveled as far north as the Arctic circle about 325 B.C. About 1,000 years later, in 795 A.D., the Irish began to live in Iceland. The Norse began to settle there 150 years later and, in 982, when Eric the Red was banished, he started the exploration of Greenland.

O&W Rails Going To Hobbyist for His Own Railroad

Tons of standard-gauge, steel rail from the former New York Ontario & Western Railroad, which had an eastern branch-line terminal at Kingston, is being shipped to a hobbyist at Oldwick, N. J., the New York Times revealed Thursday.

William R. Whitehead, 42, of Oldwick, wrote Clarence Dean, of the Times, is attempting to restore three miles of the former Rockaway Valley Railroad which operated between Whitehouse and Morristown, N. J.

Some 1,000 feet of the line will pass through Whitehead's 10-acre farm in Hunterdon County, and much of the track has been laid by Whitehead and his four young sons. They are using a gasoline powered section crew car.

The old Rockaway line, it was noted, has been out of operation for 45 years, and Whitehead hopes to gain use of the right-of-way which has been lost in brush and general overgrowth. Whitehead, a salesman for abrasive materials, said Dean, buys the used rail at $80 a ton from the old O & W at Port Jervis.

A caboose for the dinky line has been offered by the Pennsylvania Railroad, but the biggest problem yet is to be solved: From what source will the hobbyist gain a steam locomotive?

On Dec. 4, 1918, the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes was formally proclaimed. Later it became Yugoslavia.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUGUST 28, 1959

THE BIRDS GET THE MESSAGE

Kingston residents who are being harassed each evening at about dusk by clattering starlings will be interested in what has taken place in Mt. Vernon.

In that community starlings have made life miserable each evening for something like a decade. Now they are gone and the mysterious birdman from Kansas claims credit.

The relief of householders who woke up the other day to find the birds gone was enormous, but skepticism about the 71-year-old Otto Standke was still high.

One resident said a hawk seen in the neighborhood had frightened them away. Others feared the birds soon would be back.

Standke was hired on the basis of his reputation as a fine fowl foiler in other cities. He is credited with routing birds and pests in cities in Kansas, Kentucky and other places.

The interesting thing is how he does it. He drives the birds away with noise, a very special kind of noise. It is produced by loudly clapping together two pieces of metal and mingling with that racket the gentle pealing of a chime.

The successful practitioner of this anti-startling treatment confesses he doesn't know why the thing works. But it does.

We have our own ideas about this. It is very possible that in this blend of raucous clatter and gentle bells the birds recognize, for the first time, that tantalizing conflict of modern civilization. Naturally, they check out.

Considering all the publicity Rockefeller received from the marriage of his son, Nixon probably wishes his daughters would hurry and grow up.

MR. EISENHOWER, DIPLOMAT

President Eisenhower's 10-day swing through key Western capitals looks to many like a great new departure in personal diplomacy for him.

By recent contrast, it is. Until stricken by his fatal illness, the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was the man who beat a path to every diplomat's door. The President was more than content to have Dulles perform these vital labors.

Yet Dulles' tireless travels across the globe in quest of peace should not have obscured the fact that Mr. Eisenhower's pre-presidential reputation was founded in considerable part upon his display of diplomatic talent, both as wartime Allied command-erand as chief of NATO.

This was the man who brought into workable accommodation the often sharply clashing viewpoints of the World War II Western powers, and who thereafter got NATO onto solid footing by welding together the first multi-nation defense force established in time of peace.

Time will tell whether the President's talents in this realm are as sharp as they once were. They will be strongly tested in Europe as he seeks the ever-elusive goal of reasonable unity among friendly but bickering allies.

Our Western friends already have given their approval to the forthcoming Khrushchev visit to the United States. Nevertheless, it is important for Mr. Eisenhower to be able to present to him policies and attitudes which have the full support of these nations. This he now tries for with all the personal skill at his command.

What the President is doing is truly a new departure only in the sense that it is the first time the full weight of his powerful office has been given over to personal diplomacy of this sort.

His decision to undertake it now is believed to reflect more than the tragic loss of Dulles. It suggests his conviction that, other approaches having failed, his own face-to-face efforts with both friends and adversaries might be the last real hope of peace.

If somehow or other, he is encouraged to extend this personal diplomacy beyond

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
NOT FOR ALL

The American assumption has generally been that representative government controlled by democratically conceived political machinery, with checks and balances to avoid tyranny, is good for all people. We have opposed most dictatorships and generally supported revolutionary groups which sought to overthrow them. The Monroe Doctrine was favored by Americans because it closed the American continent to further colonization by Europeans, that is, by monarchies. We brought about the collapse of the unfortunate Maximilian in Mexico, the last attempt to establish a monarchical government in Latin America. But history has not worked out to support our assumption that our form of government and our way of life are good for all people or that all people want to emulate us. As a matter of fact, many nations which copied our ways found them unsuitable and troublesome and eventually either submitted to a dictatorship or sank into a state of unending revolution. China adopted our type of Constitution in 1912 but it never actually was used.

Latin American countries, which have never been able to stabilize themselves on a constitutional basis, have suffered from what seems to be endless revolutionary changes. Our government has been continuous since 1787, when the Constitution was adopted, and has only suffered one civil war to test its validity. No Latin American country can boast of such continuity under an instrument of government and such avoidance of tyranny either by a dictator or by an oligarchy of military officers.

Cuba might be cited as an example. This was a Spanish colony until taken over by the United States in the Spanish-American War (1898). We might have kept Cuba and perhaps made it a part of Florida or another state of the Union. It is not likely that we would have faced many difficulties about that in the Theodore Roosevelt Administration. Instead, we gave Cuba independence (1901); however making certain specific provisions in the Treaty and in the Platt Amendments, providing for a republican form of government, certain health conditions, etc. In these circumstances, Americans invested huge amounts of capital in Cuba, which had it a suitable government might have developed into a fine country for its own people.

However, Cuba has had a history of exploitation of the Cuban people by Cubans. The democratic republic which we envisioned for the Cuban people did not suit their temperament or was antagonistic to their traditions. At any rate, they have never succeeded in achieving such a government. In our time, Batista was a tyrant; now Castro is a tyrant. The difference between Batista and Castro is that the former followed the pattern of Latin American dictators while the latter follows the pattern of Communist dictators.

A. A. Berle, Jr., writing as recently as May of this year, said:
"For the first time since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed in 1823, the Americas could break in two. This statement is not a rhetorical one. The possibility is, I think, greater than in 1939, when Hitler and his then ally Franco tried to achieve this same end. Fidel Castro's revolution in Cuba, and the swift, and thus far partially successful, attempts of a small but well-organized Communist minority to seize the reins of power in Cuba are the immediate events that have forced the attention of a lethargic United States. They are merely the visible phenomena of a deeper crisis."

No true statement of the current situation can be made. Since Berle's article appeared in "The Reporter," Cuba has become a battleground for revolutionary forays into other parts of Latin America and the Communist pattern in Cuba has become more fixed. It is clear beyond doubt that Cuba is not being organized by the Castro brothers into what we like to call a democracy and that those desk-men in the State Department who supported Castro on the assumption that he would reorganize Cuba into a democratic republic made another error both of knowledge and judgment. These so-called experts were as doctrinaire about Cuba as their counterparts had been about China and in both areas a Communist regime came into existence. It would be of value if Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith's reports on Castro were published, so that the public might know that Washington was duly and correctly informed and rejected whatever did not conform to its a priori democratic republican concepts. Many Causes Have to Be Considered for Backache

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Lumbago is an ancient name used for a low lying backache. It is not really a specific disease and must be considered in connection with backache in general.

Unfortunately, there are an enormous number of possible causes for backache. Some are the results of various forms of arthritis. In some the cause of the backache lies within the abdomen rather than in the back itself. Backache may be a symptom of some of the acute infectious diseases, particularly smallpox. It is common during pregnancy, and may result from poor posture.

Bone diseases such as tuberculosis or tumors may produce backache. Fractures in or near the backbone are also responsible at times. Kidney stones, a misplaced womb, injury, nerve diseases, and even disturbances of the glands of internal secretion which manufacture hormones have all been incriminated.

Another cause of backache is a slipped disc or cartilage lying between the vertebrae. Injury can sometimes be responsible. For example, G. W. writes that she had a fall on cement and two years later was told she had arthritis of the spine.

Many other possibilities have to be considered in anyone who complains of severe and long-lasting backache. Therefore, a careful history of what has happened, including when the symptoms began and what makes them worse, must be obtained from each patient. Thorough physical examination not only of the back itself, but also of other parts of the anatomy must be conducted. Laboratory tests including examinations of the blood and urine are desirable. X-ray studies are essential.

Even if all of these tests are made, the cause of the backache may not be discovered. If it is, however, then the treatment is aimed so far as possible at the underlying cause.

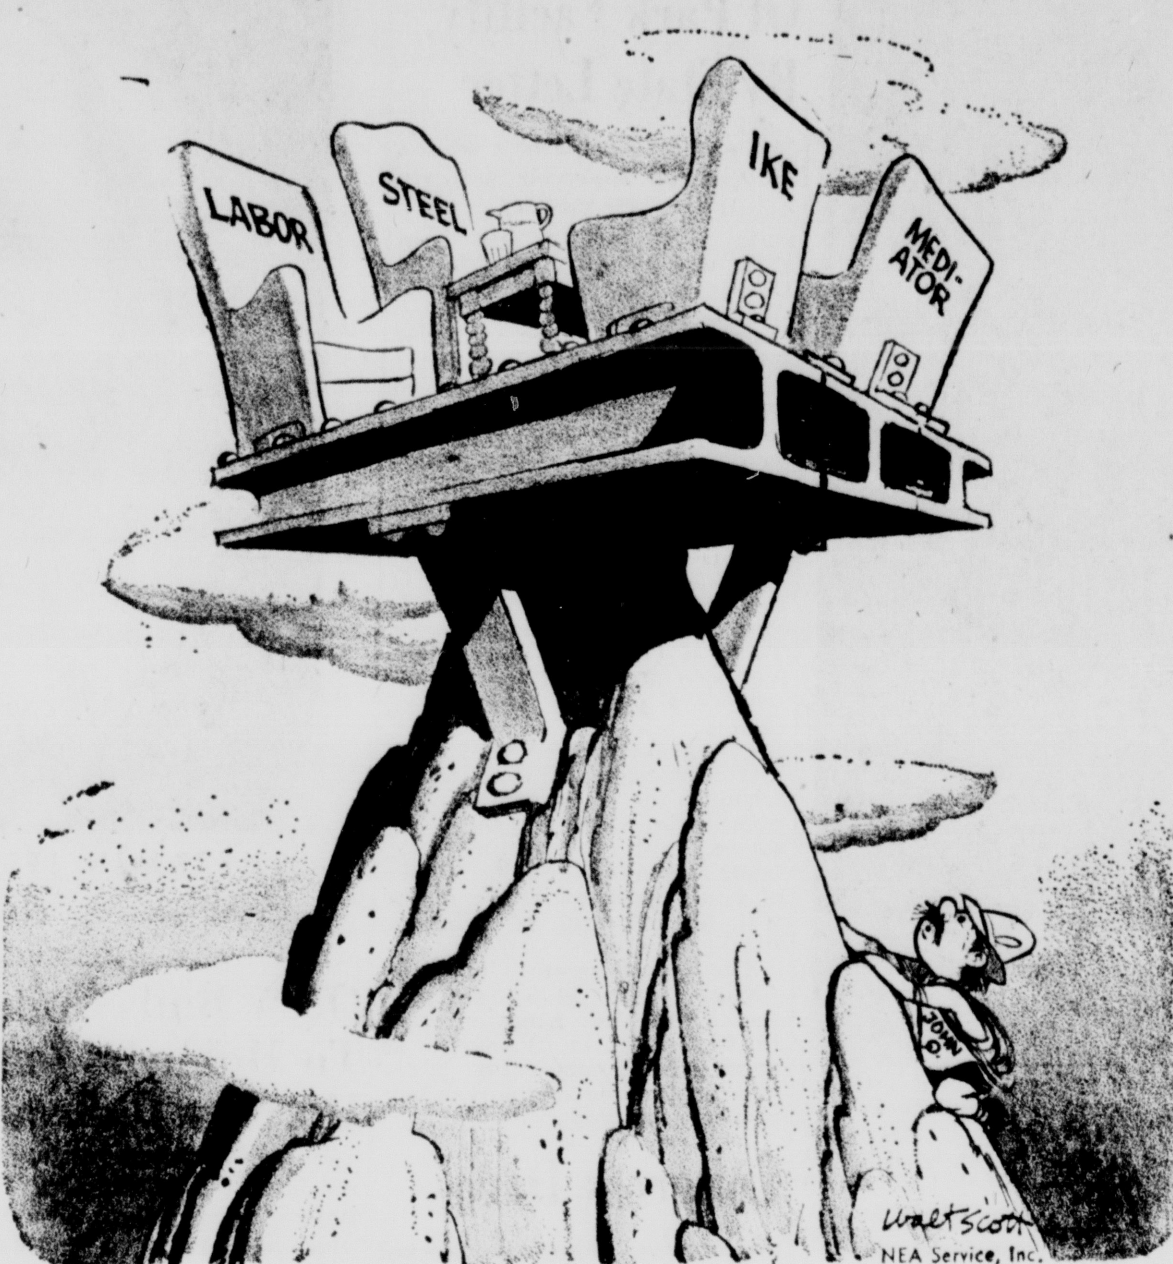

When the difficulty is found to be in the back itself, a number of possible ways of treatment are available. Braces or specially designed corsets or supports are commonly used. Physical therapy such as the application of heat or electric treatments may be helpful. Massage or manipulation is valuable in some cases but can be seriously harmful if the backache is the result of such diseases as tuberculosis.

Some physicians advocate injections for a certain kind of backache. In a slipped or ruptured disc, an operation may be needed.

Pain in the back is one of the most difficult symptoms on which to base a correct diagnosis. But by means of accurate diagnosis and properly selected treatments, most patients with backache improve or recover completely.

The current series, including the exchange with Khrushchev, then it may well be that he will be staking his entire reputation as a peacemaker on this renewal of his old talents in the closing years of his regime.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — This is where young Senator John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) tests his own "Profile in Courage" to borrow a phrase from the title of his own best-selling book on congressmen who dared to take an unpopular course.

Senator Kennedy's test is on this year's labor legislation. The way he votes on it could conceivably make or break his presidential prospects for 1960.

ONE OF KENNEDY'S BIGGEST PITCHES this year and last has been to author a new labor law which would correct criminal abuses in union activities and at the same time be acceptable to labor leaders.

The Kennedy-Ervin bill — co-sponsored with the Senior Senator from North Carolina — was that kind of bill. Even the AFL-CIO approved it at first. It passed the Senate last April, 90-1.

Then the unpredictable House of Representatives upset the steam roller. A coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats passed the Landrum-Griffin bill which all union labor leaders now oppose as a "killer bill."

From Kennedy's point of view, the Landrum-Griffin bill might be considered the Kennedy-Ervin bill with half a dozen minor changes plus four major changes.

THE FOUR IMPORTANT CHANGES ARE: It guts the employer-reporting provisions. It writes a new formula for handling labor cases in the "no man's land" between federal and state jurisdiction. It imposes new restrictions on secondary boycotts.

It imposes new restrictions on organizational pickets.

The Teamsters and other big unions say these provisions wouldn't affect their operations greatly. But new, smaller unions might be seriously hampered.

So Kennedy now finds himself in the unenviable position of being criticized by management and labor and the public on all labor legislation.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce, National Association of Manufacturers, National Association of Home Builders, National Right to Work Committee and other employer organizations are beating Senator Kennedy over the head. Their charge is that his bill contains too many "sweeteners" to make it acceptable to organized labor.

The argument is made that the Kennedy bill would re-establish the closed shop in the construction industry. It would permit special check-offs in states having right-to-work laws. It would permit economic strikers to vote in representation elections.

It would give special preferences to union charges of unfair labor practices. It would curtail employer free speech without limiting union rights.

IT WAS TOUGH ENOUGH on Kennedy's political ambitions to have the AFL-CIO withdraw their support of the Kennedy-Ervin bill. But now he is getting all of labor's abuse in opposition to the Landrum-Griffin bill.

And from still another source, rank-and-file voters all over the country, Senator Kennedy has received between 3,000 and 4,000 letters and telegrams urging him to vote for Landrum-Griffin bill.

Brother Bobby gets part of the blame for that. It seems some people confuse the Senator with his younger brother, Robert F.

Ripley's Believe It or Not!

Kennedy, who was chief counsel for McClellan labor rackets committee.

There is a possibility that Senate-House conferees — of whom Senator Kennedy is one — will agree on a compromise which Congress and the President will accept.

If the conferees can't agree, they will have to report back to the Senate and House for new instructions. That might start the fight all over again. So it will take guts for him to vote any way.

It may be that all this ruckus will be forgotten a year from now and Senator Kennedy's presidential hopes won't be affected in the slightest. But that's just one more reason for him to want to get it settled now.

CORRECTION: In a previous column by Peter Edson on the Landrum-Griffin labor bill, the name of Congresswoman Kathryn E. Granahan was listed among those who had received campaign contributions from union labor organizations. Mrs. Granahan says she has never accepted any money from these sources, though she did vote against the Landrum-Griffin bill on both ballots, as stated. The writer regrets the error and is glad to make this correction.

Welcome to Eisenhower Emphasizes Allied Unity

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The cheers of the people of Western Europe for President Eisenhower—exuberant and affectionate—are a reminder of the historic friendship between the United States and its Allies. But the demonstrations signify even more — how free peoples trust one another. This is something that peoples behind the Iron Curtain might well examine, for it contains the very ingredients of international understanding that some day could apply its benefits to the whole world.

In the personality of Dwight Eisenhower—a man of military background in the past, but today a symbol of peace seeking, by good will and a spirit of conciliation, to overcome the petty, narrow and self-centered policies of men in government that sometimes keep nations apart.

It is an open secret that Mr. Eisenhower is in Western Europe this week as much to bind up the wounds of a strained governmental alliance with France as he is to prepare for the days next month in which he will represent the West in talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Dwight Eisenhower is popular in Europe as a man. But this is not simply because of his genial personality and innate friendliness. It is because of his record — he commanded the very forces that saved Britain and France fifteen years ago. His acceptance by the people of West Germany is due largely to the fact that General Eisenhower dealt with his defeated foes on a basis of decency and fairness.

But, above all, President Eisenhower typifies the American spirit—the desire to see a nation like West Germany, which has repudiated Nazism, and established a government of free institutions, preserve its independence and become reunited with their kinsmen in East Germany.

Every American President usually speaks in foreign affairs on behalf of the American people—there is less and less partisanship nowadays on such matters. Hence, a President of the United States, by a personal visit to countries allied with them, can accomplish a good deal to strengthen the ties with them. But whatever may have been the original reasons that seemed to make it desirable for President Eisenhower to go overseas, the truth is that such a visit is constructively helpful in the long run and tends to promote a spirit of mutual concession in resolving differences.

Less Partisanship
Everybody knows that President de Gaulle is trying somehow to increase the prestige of France and his hold on his own country. He has several crucial points to discuss with Mr. Eisenhower, involving, of course, the plight of Algeria. The principle of American non-intervention in disputes inside other countries is well recognized everywhere, but at the same time the yearning of colonial peoples for independence also strikes a sympathetic note in the United States.

Certainly the most important consideration is what will benefit a dependent people. To give them immediate independence is not always in their own best interest. Gradualism is a better approach, because economic disintegration and consequent suffering for the masses often follow too sudden a change in the government structure.

Indonesia, for example, has her independence today but is worse off than at any time since her people benefited by the enlightened colonialism of the Dutch government.

Petty Tactics
Mr. Eisenhower doesn't go to France in the next few days as a mediator on the Algerian problem, but he will sit down with Gen. de Gaulle to emphasize that allied unity, especially in defense matters, is far more important than any other single factor in the internal situation confronting France. To keep NATO planes from using bases inside France because the United States wouldn't grant information on nuclear weapons is petty tactics for any Frenchman to be practicing in these critical days.

After all, the United States has twice had to come to the rescue of France in world-war crisis, and it would be a disservice to the people of France if, in this missile and atomic age, the weapons of war by which American planes could help stave off any attack on France were suddenly found wanting. Surely questions like these, on sober second thought, will have to be handled with more tact in the future than they have been in the past, lest confidence in Gen. de Gaulle himself is weakened in America.

So far as relations with Britain are concerned there is complete understanding and harmony. Mr. Eisenhower's visit to Bonn will reassure the West Germans that they are not to become the victims of a "deal" over West Berlin.

But entirely apart from the specific issues that must be dealt with by President Eisenhower on his mission to Bonn, London and Paris, it is heartening to see the Western European peoples by their demonstrations showing the friendship they cherish for the people of America. Maybe as Nikita Khrushchev examines the press reports, he will be a bit envious. For if he could but understand it, people make heroes out of leaders who love humanity and freedom, and show their disdain only for those who do not grasp the meaning of human love or its corollary—human freedom.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTERBROOK PEGLER

COPENHAGEN — After this further lick at the generally humiliating exhibition of sculpture, painting and literature at the Moscow American Fair I will subside into a long bout. But, be it said, and the U. S. people should thoroughly understand, that the types which dominate our "culture" from New York, largely through the "literary" and "esthetic" departments of the Herald Tribune and the Times, have done it again, this time with a weird new twist. Because this time, even Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, a Republican somewhat to Dick Nixon's right, was led into a delusion that the Russians had censored the books in our own little Red library whereas in fact they hardly could have been more pleased if we had let Ilya Ehrenburg and Corliss Lamont pick them out, as perhaps they did.

The day after the opening I blundered through the book and magazine compound which was now roped off with a maze of runways that were not there the day before. An employee with a foreign accent pursed his lips, drooped his eyelids and said I had tried his patience when I had hoisted the rope and ducked under. This rope ran like the barbed-wire patterns of the old trench system of the western front so it was hard to tell where the alleys started. You could have spent a day looking for the opening.

But he said, "think what a bad example you are setting these Russians!" I said I would ask God to make me a better boy and wandered away making notes of titles on display. Actually, my sweetly patient friend said the Russians had not officially removed any of the stuff carefully chosen by the USIA's version of real Americans to typify American "culture" and morals to the robots of the Moscow public. Actually, he told me individual Russian visitors had grabbed dozens of books and somehow made off. Actually, this seemed to imply that all such thieves could read Americanese, a proposition which I will not argue because it would get us nowhere.

The whole deal rested on a silly assumption that the Russian visitors somehow were going to read closed books encased in plastic shells and at no closer range than arm's length. Otherwise why were they there? For publicity, perhaps? Larceny is a serious offense in Russia, except by official act per lease or by vote of "the people" as in Poland, the Baltic States and Czechoslovakia. But theft of a doz-

Asks Air Force To Explain Move In Closing Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York's congressional delegation wants the Air Force to explain its decision to close a multi-million-dollar jet fuel plant at Model City, N. Y.

Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas was asked Thursday to provide the explanation in time for the delegation's next steering committee meeting Sept. 1.

The plant was built at a cost of 45 million dollars by the Olin Mathieson Co. under an Air Force contract. The contract was cancelled earlier this month before the first Boron type high-energy fuel was produced.

About 500 employees of the plant were affected.

A letter to Douglas, requested by Rep. William E. Miller, said the sudden decision to close the plant near Niagara Falls, N. Y., "has caused great economic disruption and loss."

Miller said more than 100 million dollars was spent to build the plant, housing and other facilities in the Model City area.

The House Space Committee is looking into the contract cancellation. It also is investigating cancellation by the Navy of a similar contract in Oklahoma.

Pilot Is Killed As Jet Explodes

ROME, N. Y. (AP)—The pilot of an F102A jet fighter plane was killed Thursday night when the plane exploded in the air after taking off from Griffiss Air Force Base.

Officials identified him as 1st Lt. John R. Flynn Jr., 27, assigned to the 47th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Niagara Falls.

Flynn was the son of Mrs. John R. Flynn of Ft. Wayne, Ind. He had been in the Air Force since Sept. 3, 1954.

Griffiss officials said the plane had just taken off for its home base at Niagara Falls.

The wreckage fell in a wide area about 10 miles northwest of here.

Critical Period Seen at Hand in School Situation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another critical period is at hand for the school children of the South where federal integration regulations sometimes clash sharply with traditional patterns and state laws.

The youngsters are about to start the fall term—the sixth since the U. S. Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing segregation in the nation's public schools.

Less Tension At Some

Some children already are attending classes in an atmosphere marked by less tension than in the past. Other thousands are preparing to resume their educations. A half-dozen schools are expected to be desegregated for the first time. Four Negroes have been assigned to the Orchard Villa School in Miami and if they attend classes Sept. 8 it will mark the start of integration at the public school level in Florida.

Other initial desegregation attempts will occur in states which now have at least token integration in some cities. Elsewhere legal battles are continuing and court rulings may take effect at later dates.

There is no indication what will happen in the next few days. But the reopening of the public high schools in Little Rock, Ark., and the end of Virginia's massive resistance have had an appreciable effect.

Voice of Moderates Heard

The voice of the moderate has been heard more often in recent months. Some citizens have formed organizations designed to keep the public schools open even if it means token integration.

Integration advances generally have occurred in the upper and middle South. The five Deep South states of Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina have permitted no public school integration.

The number of Negroes in desegregated situations has gone up from 256,020 in March 1955, to 447,022 in May 1959. Most of the changes have taken place in the border states.

The Southern Regional Council, an organization working for improvement in race relations, reported recently that with the exception of Texas, only 206 Negroes were in attendance with white pupils during the past year in 11 Southern states. In Texas, an estimated 3,250 Negroes were in desegregated classes.

May Be Settled Monday

The Orchard Villa School at Miami heads the public schools where initial desegregation may take place shortly.

A second public high school already has been integrated at Little Rock and the Dollarway School District near Pine Bluff, Ark., has been ordered to desegregate. The Dollarway case may be considered Monday by an appellate court at St. Louis.

The school board at Charlottesville in central Virginia has assigned nine Negroes to an elementary school and two to a high school there. Classes begin Sept. 8.

At Front Royal, Va., the opening of all Warren County public schools has been postponed from Aug. 31 to Sept. 8.

Three hundred and seventy-seven white pupils and 18 Negroes have registered for enrollment at integration-troubled Warren County High.

In North Carolina, two Negro girls have been admitted to classes beginning Tuesday at High Point. In addition 17 Negro children of personnel at Cherry Point Marine Air Station have been accepted at white elementary schools in the Havelock School District at New Bern.

A new school is expected to be integrated at Burk Burnett, Tex., when it opens later this fall. The school will be on federal property and will serve a new housing project for Sheppard Air Force Base.

Second Escape Try From Police Results in Death

MOHAWK, N.Y. (AP)—A young man who sped away from a policeman and later surrendered was shot and killed as he tried to escape again.

A bullet fired by Patrolman James Smith of Iliou struck Kenneth W. Fillion, 24, formerly of Utica, Thursday night on a dirt road in this Mohawk Valley community, which adjoins Iliou. Smith said he had halted Fillion's pink convertible to question him about a report he had attempted to use an apparently false credit card at a Herkimer gasoline station.

The patrolman said Fillion could not produce a driver's license or car registration. Smith ordered Fillion to follow his police car to headquarters but, Smith said, Fillion sped away.

Smith chased Fillion through Iliou into Mohawk at speeds up to 95 miles an hour.

A warning shot halted Fillion on a dirt road, Smith said.

"Don't shoot. I give up," Smith quoted Fillion as shouting.

The patrolman said he ordered Fillion to get out of the car but instead the man stepped on the gas again.

Smith leaped to one side and fired a second shot. The bullet struck Fillion in the back. His car veered into a tomato patch.

In Utica, police said Fillion had a record of arrests dating back to 1954. Most were for motor vehicle violations.

They said Fillion was wanted by police in Rotterdam, N.Y., for passing bad checks. He was arrested on a worthless check charge last year in Dallas, Tex.

President, Queen

100 Cheer Them

Stepping from the car, Eisenhower shook hands with the Queen and Margaret. Then he and Elizabeth inspected an honor guard of the Royal Highland Fusiliers to the skirl of a pipe band.

Cheers went up from about 100 spectators, most of them members of the castle staff, a few from nearby villages.

The President then entered a royal car with the Queen, her husband and Margaret, and the party was driven into the castle. Eisenhower has known Elizabeth since she was a teenage princess, and the visit is a private one, with the arrival ceremony the only public event.

Eisenhower got a taste of real Scots weather on his arrival at Dyce Airport. It was cold and windy, and rain started pelting down as the presidential plane taxied up to the arrival strip.

Scots Cheer Ike

A crowd of 500 Scots, wrapped in topcoats and mufflers, sent up a big cheer as the President walked down the steps from the plane.

Eisenhower gave Philip — his guest twice in Washington — a firm handshake and patted him warmly on the elbow. The prince smiled broadly.

He and Philip got into the waiting limousine for the 50-mile drive to Balmoral Castle, where the Queen and her family are spending their annual vacation in the Scottish highlands.

Eisenhower flies back to London Saturday, then drives to Chequers, the country home of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, for a weekend of talks about the President's approaching exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Off to Early Start

Eisenhower got an early start today, leaving U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney's Regent's Park residence at 7:30 a.m. Macmillan made the 16½-mile drive to the airport with him. Hundreds of Britons going to work cheered the motorcade.

The first four notes of Eisenhower's visit sounded as he and Macmillan left Whitney's residence.

A loudspeaker truck parked outside the gates suddenly blared: "The Emperor Gaius, who is why Harold Macmillan has invited to London the great victor of Suez. Why has Macmillan placed us militarily entirely in the hands of a traitorous ally?"

The League of British Empire Loyalists is an organization of British-firsters who feel their country should rely more on its Commonwealth partners and less on the United States. With many other Britons, it feels that U. S. pressure forced the halt in the British-French attack on the Suez in 1957, when Sir Anthony Eden was prime minister.

London Goes All Out

But this was nothing compared with the warm and stirring welcome that a half million Britons gave the President Thursday night as he drove into the city after his arrival from Bonn. It was the biggest ovation Britain's capital has seen since the Queen's coronations.

Rogers said he had relayed the President's offer to the Democratic-controlled Congress.

There is great need for these judgeships, Rogers added. "If they are authorized they would put the federal judiciary on a good basis."

Rogers, in Miami Beach for the American Bar Assn. convention, denied he might resign to manage Richard M. Nixon's campaign for the presidency if the vice president wins the nomination.

Rogers said he plans to remain as attorney general until 1961 and promised to conduct his office in a non-partisan manner. The Eisenhower administration ends in January 1961.

HERE COMES THE PITCH... THERE SHE GOES... GOING-GOING

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market relapsed into sluggishness and uneven prices early this afternoon. Stocks showed no inclination to follow through on Thursday's advance, the best of the week.

Key stocks showed gains or losses going from fractions to about a point. Profits were taken on many of Thursday's big gainers, emphasizing the trading nature of the Thursday advance.

Turnover slipped under the rate of the preceding session. The steel, motor and aluminum showed a hedge-podge of small gains or losses.

Aircrafts and electrical equipments displayed a string of plus signs. Rails, oils, tobaccos and nonferrous metals were irregular.

Westinghouse Electric picked up a couple of points.

Chrysler shaved a loss of nearly a point to a small fraction.

With the steel labor talks in recess, the major steelmakers were mostly lower. U. S. Steel was down about a point.

Southern Pacific, up about a point, stood out in a do-nothing rail section.

Allied Chemical, General Dynamics and Caterpillar were about a point higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at $231.20 with the industrials off 10 cents, the rails unchanged and the utilities up 10 cents.

Government bonds declined.

Pondering the Future

OSHKOSH, Wis. (AP)—Like a lot of college seniors, Ernest Friebel, a member of the June graduating class at Oshkosh State College, can't make up his mind whether to continue in graduate school or get a job.

"I have several possibilities under consideration," said Friebel, who will be 70 in August.

Peiping Claims On Output Still Regarded Phony

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. experts have peered at Peiping's new production claims only to find that, like the old ones, the new figures are as phony as a three yuan bill.

Take steel for example. Chinese Communist Party chiefs announced Wednesday, following a two-week strategy session, that only 8 million tons of the 11,080,000 tons of steel Red China previously claimed to have produced in 1958 were suitable for industry.

Notes Sharp Slash

They set a 1959 goal of 12 million tons for this basic industrial item, a sharp slash from the earlier target of 18 million tons. They claimed a 5,300,000-ton output for the first half of this year.

These statistics boasted by the Communist authors of China's Great Leap Forward remain glorious to the point of being impossible, in the view of Washington specialists, aside from the downgrading announced by the Reds themselves.

Word here is that China's steel mills ran above capacity to reach the stated 8 million tons in 1958. How, then, it is asked, can China expand this 50 per cent this year when it has no major new steel works announced for completion in 1959?

Peiping's grain figures, probably the most important agricultural statistic, have come under similar scrutiny.

Grain Tonnage Chopped

The Communists admitted their earlier claim of 375 million tons of grain grown in 1958 was "a bit high." Their new statistic is 250 million tons.

For 1959, they chopped the announced grain goal from 525 down to 275 million tons.

One explanation advanced here for Peiping's new grain figures is that amid a chronic shortage of food which they could not conceal among their own people, the Communists had to downgrade their more extravagant claims.

Another Washington opinion is that the Reds want to set up a lower basis for comparison so they will be able to proclaim greater relative gains on their 10th anniversary celebration due Oct. 1.

AVC Asks Probe Of Legion for Stand on Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Veterans Committee says the American Legion has forfeited all right to governmental privileges because it continues to favor racial discrimination in its ranks.

The AVC called for a congressional investigation of the legion. "Why should the American Legion be granted tax exemption, a congressional charter, Veterans Administration recognition and other federal benefits when its actions are clearly unconstitutional?" asked Mickey Levine, AVC national chairman.

Action Assured: McKneally

In Minneapolis, the legion's new national commander, Martin B. McKneally, of Newburgh, N. Y., termed the AVC action "perfectly adequate."

"No one who takes civil rights seriously would even give serious consideration to this request," added McKneally, who only Thursday was elected legion commander.

The AVC Thursday made public a telegram to Chairman Olin Teague (D-Tex.) of the House Veterans Committee. It asked Congress to revoke the legion's charter and investigate its federal privileges.

No Nixon Comment

The AVC also sent letters to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who addressed the legion's convention in Minneapolis this week, and some other congressmen.

Teague and Nixon were not immediately available for comment.

The AVC letters mentioned racial discrimination and said the legion also had made irresponsible denunciations of the Supreme Court, UNESCO, the Fund for the Republic and the American Civil Liberties Union.

To this, McKneally said, "It's a free country, and the AVC is free to sound off as they see fit."

The legion convention has turned down a resolution that would force the 40 and 8, a fundraising legion division, to remove racial discrimination from membership bylaws.

The legion itself has no racial exclusion provision but the 40 and 8 bylaws restrict membership to whites.

The convention earlier approved a watered down resolution calling on the 40 and 8 to re-examine its racial clause "in the light of its promise to humanity."

Nehru Confirms Red Troops in India on Two Wide Frontiers

NEW DELHI, India (AP) —

Prime Minister Nehru said today that Chinese Communist troops have crossed from Tibet into Indian territory on two widely separated frontiers and apparently are staying.

In India's northeast frontier area, Nehru told Parliament, several hundred Chinese apparently seized an Indian border post this week after driving off a 12-man picket detachment with gunfire.

Nehru said four border guards are missing.

Reported Building Road

Nehru said the Chinese also had established a camp in a remote, uninhabited border sector of the Ladakh area of Kashmir, more than 1,000 miles west of the crossings on the northeast frontier. The Chinese also are reported building a road across the area, cutting off several hundred square miles of Indian territory.

Nehru said the Chinese moved into the Ladakh region in October 1957. The Indian reconnaissance party was sent into the region at the end of last month.

There was no indication in Nehru's statement why he waited so long before acting.

He said India had protested to Peiping but so far had no satisfaction.

Must Be Vigilant

"There is no alternative but to guard our borders and integrity," he declared. "We will have to be vigilant."

Nehru made no announcement, however, of military counter-action.

On the mountainous northeast frontier, Nehru said, the Chinese crossed into India from Tibet on Aug. 25 and fired on a picket post in the Kameng section. He said the Reds returned on Aug. 26, opened fire again, and practically encircled the border post.

The Indian border patrol withdrew, Nehru continued, and the Chinese are presumed to be still holding the position.

India protested to Peiping, and the Chinese reply, received as Nehru sat in Parliament, claimed the Indians on Aug. 25 fired first and the Chinese shot back in self-defense. Peiping said it knew nothing about the border crossing the next day.

Credence to Reports

"I give credence to our own reports," Nehru said as the deputies cheered in approval. "All circumstantial evidence supports our view. I believe it is true."

Earlier in the session Nehru said the Chinese were forcibly holding Indian territory in the Ladakh sector of Kashmir, on the northwest border between India and Tibet. He said the Chinese had established a camp at Spang-gur, well within Indian territory, and had arrested a reconnaissance party which had been sent to investigate.

The Chinese released the reconnaissance group, consisting of one officer and five enlisted men, but Peiping asserted the territory was Chinese, the prime minister said.

Several newspapers in recent weeks have reported various crossings by Chinese troops into India along the mountainous border of Kashmir and also in the northeast frontier area, in the Indian state of Assam. There also have been reports of Chinese claims to these northern areas bordering on Tibet, as well as to Nepal and the protectorates of Bhutan and Sikkim, which lie between Kashmir and Assam.

The Times of India reported today that Red forces had pushed back several border patrols along the northeast frontier and said in at least one instance there was believed to have been an exchange of gunfire.

Earlier this week the Times reported the Chinese had built a road in the Ladakh area, cutting off several hundred square miles of Indian territory.

Cooper Lake Now 6.1 Feet Under Normal: Report

Cooper Lake, the city's reservoir, is now 6.1 feet below normal crest, Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent, reported today.

The reservoir is slightly more than four feet above the low point at this time in 1957, when a long drought was in effect, but it is almost twice as low as it was on Aug. 28, 1958 when the crest was 3.9 feet down.

The low point today, said Cloonan, approaches that of Oct. 21, 1958, after which rains brought new water. The situation, this season, to date, however, has not been dangerous. September and October rains usually bring much more water.

The Federal Aviation Agency predicts that United States airlines will carry 118 million passengers by 1970 compared with 45 million in 1958.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Forty million of us still have a chance of getting better paid for being thrifty.

Congress hasn't yet slammed the door on the proposal of the secretary of the Treasury that the return on savings bonds — 4 1/2 percent — should be raised to 3 1/2 percent from the present legal limit of 3 1/4 percent.

Most Holders Voters
Most of the 40 million holders are voters.

The Treasury says the cost of living is tied up with its proposal, as well as giving the 40 million a better deal.

In each of the last four months the Treasury has had to pay out more cash in redeeming series E and H bonds than it got from the sale of new ones.

It got the cash — for this and other pressing needs — by borrowing from other investors in the short-term market. The last such borrowing cost it 3.82 percent.

Effect Also Same

The Treasury calls these short-term issues inflationary — thus adding to the pressure for further hikes in the cost of living — because holders treat the Treasury bills about like cash, due to their being paid off in such a short time. The Treasury holds that the effect is almost the same as if it just added to the money supply by printing greenbacks.

But when you buy a savings bond you put it away, and in the past most of you have held onto the bond until maturity because that's the only way to get the full 3 1/2 percent return on your savings.

This is regarded as having no inflationary implications as the Treasury's short-term borrowing has. The Treasury wishes you would buy more savings bonds.

and stop redeeming so many before they mature.

Bigger Return Elsewhere
The reason you've been redeeming them and slackening up on your purchases is simple. You can get a bigger return than 3 1/4 percent in many banks and savings & loan associations — and still higher than that in some other forms of investment.

In his plea to Congress this week to lift the ceiling on savings bond interest rates, and also on marketable Treasury bonds of five years or more maturity, President Eisenhower took note of another reason many persons have gone sour on savings bonds.

Many are painfully aware that the $75 they put into the bond eight or more years ago could buy as much or more than the $100 they will get now as it matures.

And the President says that if the Treasury can't sell long-term bonds in today's money market, where demand for funds has pushed yields well above the 4 1/4 percent legal interest limit, it will have to do all its financing in the short-term market with all the inflation that implies.

Not Fair: President

In addition to its needs for new cash, the Treasury must refund many issues coming due. Altogether it will have to go into the money market in the next 12 months for some $5 billion dollars. It will have to pay the going rate of interest. And if all the borrowing is done in the short-term market, interest rates will rise even more — and more government paper looked upon as the next thing to cash could erode the dollar's purchasing power still further.

The President says this isn't fair to the holders of savings bonds or to the thrifty American putting his money into other forms of savings.

Large Anchor Found

POINT PLEASANT BEACH, N. J. (AP)—A large anchor, relic of the days of sailing ships, has been dragged from the Atlantic Ocean seven miles southeast of Manasquan Inlet. Encrusted with rust, barnacles and clam shells, the anchor was accompanied by more than 300 feet of wrought iron chain. It was recovered by the commercial fishing boat Adele, and stands 9 1/2 feet tall by 8 1/2 feet wide at the flukes. Each chain link weighs more than 10 pounds.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The following may be interesting to those who are interested in John Vanderlyn, the famous Kingston artist. This is taken in part from the Kingston Argus, of Wednesday, Dec. 6, 1893. It seems that a week before this issue was printed there was a write-up on Vanderlyn. Hon. Augustus Schoonmaker sent in a letter, dated Dec. 4, 1893 concerning the previous article.

Schoonmaker's letter reads in part "Vanderlyn was born Oct. 13, 1775, and died Sept. 23, 1852. Kingston was the place of his birth and death, and also of his burial. His remains rested in Wiltwyck Rural Cemetery for about 40 years without a mark or sign to indicate that the dust of a world-famed genius reposed there. About three or four years ago our townsman, townsman, Henry Abbey, at his own expense, had a handsome slab with a suitable inscription placed at the grave." It further reads "The cemetery association gave the lot originally as the burying place for the artist and his relatives. An effort was made soon after the artist's death to raise a fund by subscription for a monument, but, like nearly all well-meaning efforts of that kind, it was a melancholy failure. Miss Kate Vanderlyn, the artist's niece, and the last survivor of the family name and blood, died in Jan. 1892, and by her will provided for the erection of a monument to commemorate the genius and fame of her great uncle out of the residue of her small estate, after payment of certain specific and money legacies. An intermediate judicial settlement, of the executors of the will has just been had, and the surplus available for a monument ascertained to be $1,375."

He further writes "No biography of John Vanderlyn has ever been published." It seems he gave material to his friend, Robert Gosman, for that purpose, but was never completed. The material by Gosman was "passed by some means into the hands of John W. Hasbrouck, of Middletown, Orange County," and it is said, "it was sold to the Rev. R. Randall Hoes." The last man was well qualified for the task. Within the last year Hon. Marius Schoonmaker, of Kingston prepared a sketch of Vanderlyn, as he knew him personally besides having Gosman's items. It was not published when that newspaper was printed.

Hon. A. Schoonmaker further says: "Vanderlyn's most famous work 'Caus Marius' is in San Francisco, in the Mark Hopkins Academy of Arts. His 'Ariadne' is in Philadelphia in the Academy of Fine Arts. His 'Jane McCrea' is at Hartford, Conn. His 'Washington' and 'Landing of Columbus' are the permanent property of the government at Washington, D. C. His 'Niagara Falls' is in the family of the late Jansen Hasbrouck. His 'Cleopatra' is owned by John W. Kerr, who purchased it at a sale of the effects of St. George Croghan about 30 years ago, for a small sum. Some family portraits, painted by Vanderlyn, are in the possession of different families in Kingston. A few of the artist's works are in the old Senate House, including painting of several of his relatives. His exquisite water color of Kingston in 1819 is in the Senate House." Will give more from this Vanderlyn write-up in a future column. These papers are from attorney, Peter Harp of New Paltz, which contain no end of information which I doubt can be found elsewhere.

Wind Tunnel to Be Built in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A supersonic wind tunnel, capable of generating 10,000 mile-an-hour winds and temperatures of 9,000 degrees Fahrenheit will be built by Cornell Aeronautical Laboratories here.

A laboratory release said the new tunnel will simulate conditions a missile nose cone would encounter on re-entry into the Earth's atmosphere.

The tunnel should be in operation in two years, the announcement said. It is being constructed under a $3,058,000 Air Force contract, one of two awarded by the Air Force in the Buffalo area. The American Machine & Foundry plant received a $2,840,000 contract for construction of three Titan missile launchers.

The Cornell laboratory is affiliated with Cornell University.

Britisher Is Against Scientific Race Plan

ALFRED, N. Y. (AP)—A British scientist says he doesn't like the current scientific race between nations and predicted a universal pooling of scientific knowledge someday.

Dr. D. D. Eley, head of the physical chemistry dept. of Nottingham University in England said he doesn't think scientists anywhere really believe in what he termed "today's nationalism in science."

The chemist spoke informally Thursday after presenting a technical paper at Alfred University's annual graduate science symposium.

Surveys Ruins, Dies

COVERT, N. Y. (AP)—The highway superintendent died of a heart attack in a nearby hospital Thursday shortly after seeing the ruins of a barn on his farm here.

Clifford Hickok, 49, superintendent of roads in this tiny Seneca County hamlet, was stricken while surveying the ruins of a barn, which had been destroyed by lightning minutes before.

Navy Is Sending Missile Here for Sept. 12th Event

A Navy "Terrier" missile will be on display in the "Empire State Day" parade here on September 12. Confirmation has just been received from Commander I. G. Wineapple of the Third Naval District.

All four branches of the Armed Forces will participate in the parade including the First U. S. Army Band and the 579th Air Force Band. In addition there will be several armed forces marching units and color guards.

The "Empire State Day" parade is sponsored by the Kingston Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration with John Ray Mayone as chairman. Mayone said today that there is still time for any businesses and organizations to enter floats, musical units and marching units. Final instructions will be mailed to all participants next week.

The parade will start near the downtown portion of the city, proceed up Broadway to Clinton Avenue, from Clinton Avenue to Main Street, thence via Wall and North Front Streets to the Dietz Memorial Stadium, where the parade will disband.

Preceding the parade, on Sept. 12, a pageant, in authentic costumes, staged by the Coach House Players and the Ulster County Bar Association, will take place in front of the County Court House on Wall Street at 11 a. m. At noon a luncheon will take place at the Governor Clinton Hotel, tickets for which will go on sale next week. Lt. Governor Malcolm Wilson will be the guest speaker at this luncheon.

Pinned by Car, Killed

MALONE, N. Y. (AP)—Harold Rompf, 59, of Syracuse, was injured fatally yesterday when an automobile pinned him against the porch of a home he was visiting in nearby Brushton.

State Police said the owner of the home, Clarence Hourihan, 30, was at the wheel of the vehicle.

Hourihan told them his foot slipped from the brake pedal to the accelerator just as Rompf came out of the house. Police said no arrest was contemplated.

Rompf was an inspector for the Carrier Corp in Syracuse.

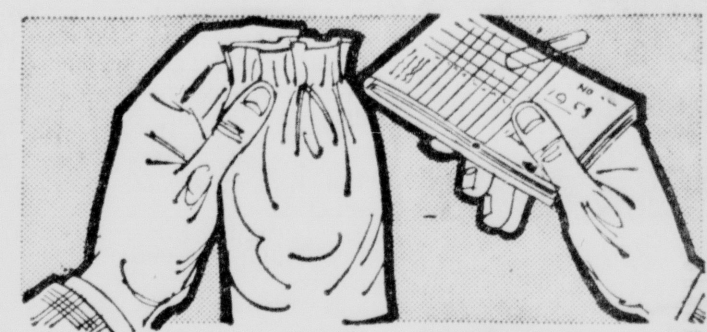

Compensation Court

Sessions of Workmen's Compensation Court to be held at the Ulster County Courthouse in September have been listed by Acting District Administrator C. A. Brink. They will be held Monday, Sept. 21 starting at 10 a. m. and on September 22, 23, 24, and 25 starting at 9:30 a. m.

Think Things Over Steel Talks Off Until Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations in the nationwide steel strike are in recess so that leaders of both sides can think things over for a few days.

When the talks start up again Wednesday, the strike of a half million workers will be 30 days old.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, announced the recess after a bargaining session Thursday.

He said top negotiators for the industry and the striking United Steelworkers Union of America told him that "it is their joint opinion that time for additional work by the respective parties is required in order for them to evaluate and restudy their positions."

A joint statement by Union President David J. McDonald and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said: "The parties have reached a point where a temporary adjournment appears to be necessary. After many weeks of continuous discussion, both parties need to devote time with their own associates to review the problems that have been considered and to assess efforts to date."

Florida Boy Killed

NAPLES, Fla. (AP)—Raymond Cocheiro, 9, of Florida, N. Y., on a vacation trip with his family, was killed Thursday when their station wagon overturned.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cocheiro, and three other children escaped with scratches. Police said Mrs. Cocheiro lost control of the vehicle. It went off the road and struck a bridge before overturning.

The family was enroute to their home at Glenmere Homesites in Florida, N. Y.

The door glass was broken by the desperate 21-year-old girl's fists as she fled her fiancé's Los Angeles apartment, pursued by an unknown assailant who stabbed her.

3 Generals Quit In Promotion Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Marine Corps generals, disappointed by the appointment of a junior officer to the Marines' top spot, have announced their resignations.

Their action Thursday came two weeks after President Eisenhower named Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup to be commandant of the Marine Corps Jan. 1. Shoup will be promoted to full general.

The three who resigned were Lt. Gen. Vernon E. Megee, commander in the Pacific; Edwin A. Pollock, fleet force commander for the Atlantic; and Merrill B. Twining, commandant of Marine Corps schools at Quantico, Va.

Megee, at his headquarters in Honolulu, said "I'm naturally disappointed because I didn't get the top job. So are some other senior officers in the corps."

He gave that as the reason for the three resignations. Pollock and Twining were not available for comment.

"However," Megee added, "Dave Shoup is a fine officer and will make a great commandant."

Took Five Lives Hearing Is Held On Crash of 707

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board held a one day hearing Thursday on the crash of an American Airlines Boeing 707 jet on a training flight which killed all five crew members aboard.

The board said the findings will be made public later in Washington.

The plane—the first Boeing 707 to crash—went down in a Long Island potato field near Calverton Aug. 15.

Witnesses of the crash, American Airlines officials, pilots and technicians testified at the hearing, which was held to determine the cause of the accident.

Testimony indicated that only two of the four engines may have been in use, in a training maneuver called "two-engine-out procedure."

Arnold Holstine, air safety investigator of the CAB's Bureau of Safety, said preliminary findings indicated that only the two left-wing engines were operating. The oil temperature indicators on the right-wing engines were much lower than the other two, he told the board.

Capt. Glenn H. Brink and Capt. Howard U. Morton, American Airlines pilots, said they had never experienced any apprehension during the "two-engine-out" procedure. They testified that they considered it a "desirable training maneuver."

Harness Driver Critical

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—Frank Swinton of Warrensburg, a 77-year-old harness race driver, was in critical condition today with injuries suffered in a collision between two sulkeys during a race at the Cobleskill Fair.

Swinton was treated at Cobleskill Hospital for spine and head injuries and transferred to Ellis Hospital here.

His horse, Dreamland, collided with another Thursday and fell on the first turn of the fifth race. Dreamland was not injured.

A Little Smells Good

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Food connoisseurs may be surprised to learn that hydrogen sulfide—source of the classic "rotten egg" smell—and ammonia are among compounds present in the aroma of cooked beef. This was discovered by biochemistry Professor Frank M. Strong and graduate student Mao Yueh of the University of Wisconsin. The two normally unpleasant odors were found in exceedingly small amounts in the beef aroma.

Alert Clerk's Tip Lands 2 in Jail. Had $9,000 Goods

MAYVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—A tip by an alert warehouse clerk had landed two Cleveland men—one of them a lawyer—in Chautauqua County jail here.

Sheriff's deputies, who identified the men as Herman S. Pressman, 51, a lawyer, and Richard Alex Stewart, 28, said the two checked $9,000 worth of antique watches and coins into a warehouse in nearby Jamestown Thursday.

The antiques were believed to be those stolen by two other Ohio men in a Jamestown safe-cracking last year, police said.

Pressman and Stewart will be arraigned here today on a charge of possessing stolen property. Stewart is already under federal indictment on a charge of possessing counterfeit money.

The men were arrested just east of the Ohio border after an unidentified warehouse clerk telephoned police with a description of their car. The clerk said he became suspicious when the men checked a suitcase full of watches.

Police said the watches were stolen by two other Cleveland men, Anthony Severino, 38, and Charles Skubovic, 35, presently completing terms in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Both will be extradited to Jamestown to face burglary and grand larceny charges in the theft of the antiques, Jamestown police said.

Pressman told police he is the attorney for the two men and was in Jamestown to arrange for a local attorney to represent them. Stewart was free on $15,000 bail after Secret Service agents arrested him in Pittsburgh July 29 on a charge of possessing counterfeit money.

He Follows Orders

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—When Pat Arellano, waiting to be booked into the county jail, asked to make a telephone call, busy deputies waved him toward the radio room.

There he was asked: "Are you a prisoner?"

Arellano, a 32-year-old barber, nodded.

"Then use the phone outside," he was told.

So Arellano walked outside Wednesday and hasn't been seen since. He had been sentenced to 100 days for drunken driving.

SAC Pilots Fly Over 4 Million Hours Since '46

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The Strategic Air Command announced Thursday SAC pilots have flown more than four million hours in the air in jet aircraft since SAC was established in 1946.

Gen. Thomas Power, SAC commander, said the mark, passed in July, represents more than two billion miles flown.

Through July the major aircraft accident rate for 1959 was 3.3 accidents for each 100,000 hours flown compared with the previous record set in 1957 and equaled in 1958 of 5 accidents per 100,000 flown.

Power said the record accident rate for the whole Air Force was 10 accidents per 100,000 miles flown in February 1958.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

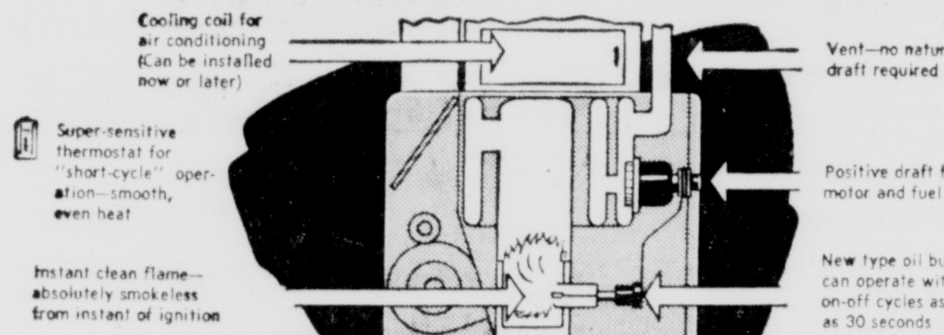

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—William V. O'Connor, 48, former chief deputy attorney general for California, died Thursday. Death was attributed to an acute coronary occlusion. O'Connor, a Democrat, served 7½ years in the attorney general's office, resigning in 1958 to practice law in Los Angeles.

CONCORD, Calif. (AP)—Fred Flanders, 76, retired managing editor of the Aurora (Ill.) Beacon-News, died Wednesday at his home in Concord.

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Olaf Iversen, 57, editor and publisher of Germany's widely known satirical magazine Simplicissimus, died Thursday after a long illness.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Claude Jonnard, 61, pitching member of the famous Jonnard twin battery of the 20s, died Thursday after an operation. Although Claude and his twin, Clarence, both were in the major leagues at the same time, Claude pitched primarily for the New York Giants and Clarence was with the Philadelphia Phils.

Mom Selects Clothes For Father According To US Manufacturers

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Mother knows best what Father should wear.

This seems to be an accepted fact among manufacturers, designers and salesmen of men's clothing. When Mom comes along to help Pop buy a new suit, everybody is delighted. Stanley Goldman, one of the country's leading manufacturers of men's upper-bracket suits, explains it.

"The average man is not a shopper," Goldman says. "He dreads the idea of walking into a store and trying on things in front of strange salesmen. His main idea is to get it over with as quickly as possible, and get the heck out of there. So he orders the same kind of suit he's been wearing for the last 10 years and that's that. He resists the idea of a new style or a new color. He's a creature of habit, and becomes panicky when confronted with a change in routine."

"His wife, on the other hand, likes variety. She's interested in anything new. Moreover, she knows what looks well on her husband. If she goes along when he decides to buy a new suit, he's much more likely to come out with the right thing. And it also will be a much less painful performance. A man is timid about looking at anything new, he doesn't like discussing his clothing problems with strangers. But when his wife is with him, she's a friend, and he depends on her advice."

It's been a job, says this veteran expert in men's fashions, to get the American male to accept the new Continental styling of suits, and its present success is directly traceable to women's influence.

"The narrow line of the new suits, the slightly fitted look, the tapered trousers and sleeves all make a man look trimmer and more chesty—the way women like their men to look."

There's more style change in men's suits this fall than in many years, says Goldman, not only in cut but also in fabrics. The newest suitings are lightweight and comfortable, with subtle color blends.

Since the average American man today buys only seven-eighths of a suit each year, when he gets a new one, it should be right. And if he's wise, says Goldman, he'll heed the advice of his spouse.

MRS. ROBERT L. LEHN

Sally Jane Weeks Weds Robert L. Lehn At St. Mark's ME Church in Napanoch

On Sunday, Aug. 16 at 2 p. m., Miss Sally Jane Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks Jr., of Napanoch wed Robert L. Lehn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lehn, 11 Pine Street, Port Jervis.

The ceremony took place at St. Mark's Methodist Church in Napanoch. Bouquets of white daisies and gladioli decorated the church for the occasion. Officiating was the Rev. D. Harper.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of pure silk organza styled with a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves and bouffant skirt featuring a butterfly bow at the back. She carried a crescent bouquet of white daisies and ivy.

The maid of honor, Barbara Weeks, wore a gown of jade green peau de soie with scoop neckline, cap sleeves and two-toned pleated cummerbund which ended in a floating panel.

She carried an arm basket of yellow daisies and ivy. Miss Weeks is the bride's sister.

The bridesmaids, Miss Donna Harris of Seneca Falls, and Barbara Lehn, the bridegroom's sister, wore Nile green gowns with contrasting shades of jade. They also carried yellow daisies and ivy.

Jack Lehn of Endwell was best man for his brother. Ushers were Francis Newcomb of Port Jervis, and Robert Carroll of Sparrowbush.

A reception was given at the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association in Napanoch immediately following the wedding.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a yellow dress with black accessories and an orchid. The bride was graduated from Ellenville High School and New York State Teachers College at Albany. Her husband is an alumnus of Port Jervis High School and is employed by GLF in Port Jervis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehn will reside in Port Jervis.

Balenciaga Finally Reveals New Fall Line of Clothes

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—Fringed hems, loose overblouses and rhinestone tennis ball jewels are trademarks of the new Balenciaga collection. Fashion writers were finally permitted to see it this morning, a month after other major Paris fashion openings.

The Spanish designer, whose influence on styles is powerful, is said to have put off his opening because he feared spies among the press.

One new Balenciaga brainstorm made the audience laugh and cheer—a mannequin, wearing a black crepe sheath with a shutter back on drawstrings, lowered it like a venetian blind to bare her back.

Balenciaga keeps his hemline short, an inch or two below the knee. Only three or four models show half the kneecap. His suits are slender rectangles, some with short jackets blousing down in the back, and others with longer straight jackets to midhip. There are also battle jackets, banded around the hip and yoked at the back.

The most original hats of the season are worn by Balenciaga mannequins. One that looks just like a black satin baseball is worn squarely over one ear, whatever holds it on, it isn't gravity.

Kellars Return From Lawyers' Parley in Miami Beach; Cuba

Attorney Norman Kellar and Mrs. Kellar have returned from a meeting of the National Plaintiffs Trial Lawyers Association (NATTA). The group met for seven days at Miami Beach, Fla. and for three days in Havana, Cuba.

More than 1,000 of the nation's leading trial lawyers attended the convention. The most eminent trial lawyers in the nation lectured both at Miami Beach and Havana on trial techniques and participated in mock trials.

Governor Freeman of Minnesota and Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark addressed the Association at two dinner meetings.

Girl Scout News

A group of eight Senior Girl Scouts and three leaders from Ulster, Orange and Dutchess Counties left Wednesday for a week's camping trip in Canada. The girls are members of the alternate patrol who trained all spring with the Roundup patrol which went to the Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Colorado Springs in July.

They took the same training in camping skills that the Roundup girls took, ready at a moment's notice to fill in in an emergency for one of them, and prepared, in case no such emergency arose, for an exciting trip of their own.

Miss Judith Sharp, district director of the Dutchess County Girl Scout Council, is the adult in charge of the group. Wednesday, 9:30, at a farewell breakfast at Poughkeepsie Inn, the families and friends of the girls gathered to see them off.

Representing the Ulster County Council were Mrs. Kenneth Martin, one of the instructors, and Miss Eunice Thomson, executive director of the council.

The girls in this patrol are Nancy Diemer and Judith Babb of New Paltz, Christine Mathiesen of Modena, Elizabeth McGovern, Judy Sutherland, and Karen Redfern of Newburgh, and Betty McGurk and Gwen Gould of Poughkeepsie.

Their itinerary will include a night spent at the Schenectady Girl Scout Camp Hidden Lake, Luzerne; a visit to Fort Ticonderoga; a night at Lake Placid; three nights in Canada at Gita-

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc.

SHE WOULD LIKE TO GO TOO

Dear Mrs. Post: A girl I know, but who is not an intimate friend of mine, told me that she and a friend of hers were planning to take a motor trip out West. I always wanted to go out West but as I had no one to go with, and did not want to travel this distance alone, I gave up the idea. I would like to know if it would be proper to ask this friend if I may go along with them. I will, of course, pay all my own expenses and also share the expenses of the car. Would such a request be in order or might this be considered a gross imposition?

Answer: As she is not an intimate friend, all you can do is to say, "What a wonderful trip! How I wish I could go along." If after that she makes no suggestion of your joining them, you must forget the idea.

Grandmother Is Giving the Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents are living but I've been making my home for years with my grandmother. She is very good to me and is now going to give me a nice wedding and reception. What about the name or names on my wedding invitations? Is it right for me to eliminate my own parents when they will be present?

Answer: Since the wedding is being given by your grandmother, the invitations should be sent out in her name, and read: at the marriage of her granddaughter. This is not at all unusual and does not in any way belittle your parents.

A Buffet Party

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to a buffet party, is it up to the man to go to the buffet table and fill a plate for his companion and bring it to her, or does she help herself?

Answer: They usually go to the buffet table together so that he can help her to the foods that she chooses, or if she prefers, she fills her own plate.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-27, entitled, "Afternoon Tea," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

She Likes Cats

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—Miss Mary Carolyn Boudinot, said she preferred her 40 cats to living in Muskogee. A court ruled she must give up all but four of her 40 cats, but she said she would move first.

Sleek Dresses for Autumn

Dresses for daytime wear this fall stress simplicity, neatly-curved and natural lines. The jacket dress is one that will be seen everywhere. This one (left) is by Donald Brooks for Townley in amethyst-colored tweed. Dress has high, round neckline and short sleeves. Jacket has applied leaf design at front. Red worsted wool dress by Larry Aldrich has cardigan front and pleated skirt stitched at top hipline to eliminate bulkiness. Neckline is ideal for many-stranded necklace. Many daytime dresses are done in neutral colors, too.

Alumnae Association Fetes Graduates Here

The 1959 graduating class of Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing was honored at a banquet Thursday at the Flamingo, Route 9W near Saugerties. The party was given by the Alumnae Association of the school. More than 100 members attended and heard Miss Elizabeth Jeffer, president of the association, welcome the graduates into the group. Miss Jeffer extended congratulations and wishes for success and happiness in their new profession.

Visitor Injured As Car Overturns In Rt. 52 Crash

Edward Snyder, 40, of Ashville, N.C., was taken to Ellenville Veterans Memorial Hospital early this morning after his car had left the road on Route 52 about 200 feet east of the Cherry Hill road at Greenfield Park, town of Wawarsing, and turned over. Snyder was apparently thrown from the vehicle when it struck a culvert. At Veterans Memorial Hospital, where Snyder was taken by Ellenville Rescue Squad and state police, it was reported he suffered a laceration of the forehead, arm, broken nose and knee injuries. How the accident happened was not determined since Snyder remained unconscious and state police could not question him. The car, traveling east on the highway ran along the shoulder 189 feet, veered to the left and ran 78 feet, struck a culvert and overturned, state police from the Ellenville station reported. It landed on its roof and Snyder was thrown clear. Time of the accident was about 3:20 a. m.

Pretty Plus

When a girl graduates from one school to another, her looks should graduate too.

By paying attention to posture, make-up and grooming, a girl CAN be prettier.

High school students who want a new look for the new term should (1) be bold about fads and choose about colors; (2) experiment with accessories and high heels; (3) be clever with make-up, but always practice first; (4) try a trimmer, crisper hairdo, whether bob of bouffant. College girls must be knowing, and choose costumes, make-up and coiffures to fit their particular kind of prettiness. They should also (1) save some clothes money to spend at local college shops; (2) diversify their wardrobes to have the right outfit for the right event; (3) plan for easy-care hairdo that travels easily from class to concert.

Girls who follow these tips will be not only knowing—but glowing.

Fashion Philosophy

A recent cross-country survey has revealed that girls like put-together fashions. "nifty" color combinations, straight hems, straight seams. The chemise is out and so is the "beatnik" look. (Thank heavens!)

Leotards, tunics and belted overblouses are popular, and there's a weak trend to more dressiness. True to tradition, girls in the south are ladylike (wearing gloves on dates is the custom) and westerners boast the largest collection of informal clothes. Girls all over wear their bobby sox turned up and own at least one pair of sneakers (white, dirty white or a color, or just plain dirty!)

Seventeen Magazine's Sixth Annual Favorite Recipe contest for teen-age cooks is announced in the publication's September issue.

Open to young people between 13 and 19, the nationwide competition offers as top award a 17-piece Live Better Electrically Housewares Trousseau, a complete spring wardrobe, a new hair styling and a four-day trip to New York City for the winner and her mother. This grand prize winner will be chosen from the top winners in each of four contest categories: snack; dessert; main dish; and pot luck (all other recipes). The other three first-place winners will each receive a junior trousseau of five electric appliances, and 24 runners-up (six from each division) will win one appliance each. Entrants may submit as many recipes as they wish, each on a separate piece of paper. Category entered must be written in the top left-hand corner and name, address and age in the top right-hand corner of each page. All ingredients, amounts, directions, cooking time, temperature and number of servings must be specified. A short paragraph on how and when the dish should be served, where and how it originated and any way in which it has been changed should accompany each entry. All recipes will be judged on the basis of taste, practicality, accuracy and originality. Entry deadline is November 30.

Harvest Queen Pageant in New Paltz Set For October 2; Sponsored by Junior Chamber

A local event in celebration of New York's Year of History will be the selection of a Harvest Queen from among southeastern Ulster County residents at the Central High School in New Paltz on Oct. 2. This pageant will be presented by the New Paltz Junior Chamber of Commerce who will donate the proceeds from ticket sales to the Mike Moriello Memorial Park, New Paltz.

The six finalists of this beauty contest will visit by horse-drawn carriage points of interest in the area on the morning of Oct. 3. These girls will attend a Block Dance in New Paltz on the same evening where one of the finalists will be crowned queen and receive a lovely trophy as a permanent memento of her part in the 350th Anniversary.

High Falls Mother, Daughter Are Honored at Farewell Parties

The Marbletown Reformed Church of Stone Ridge and High Falls honored its assistant director, Mrs. Ann Jackson, at a picnic supper Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson of Lomontville.

Guests present included Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schwarz, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Muller Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Roosa, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hasbrouck, Mrs. Elsa D. Hart, Mrs. Ruth Roosa, Mrs. Ernest Jansen, Mrs. Herbert Siemer, Mrs. Garton Wagner, Mrs. Robert Schumate, Miss Susan Schwarz, Miss Nancy Schwarz, Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson and Mrs. Ann Jackson.

A gift of appreciation was given Mrs. Jackson who with her family leave in a few days for their new home on Philosopher's Terrace, Chestertown, Md. Mrs. Jackson was the music teacher in the Marbletown School as well as assistant choir director. She also had charge of a junior choir, and taught a class in advanced Bible study in the Marbletown Reformed Church Sunday school.

Miss Susan Jackson was honored Tuesday at a picnic-swimming party at Tongore Park by her classmates of the Marbletown School, Stone Ridge.

Classmates present were Christine Hasbrouck, Sally Emmerling, Christina Gorham, Miriam Elliott, Kathy Bowers, Edith Oats, Lillian Bogart, and Helen Hart, and her sister Marcia Jackson and brother Tommy Jackson.

Mrs. Anna Mae Emmerling and Mrs. Ann Jackson acted as chaperones for the party. Susan leaves for her new home in Chestertown, Md., the last of the week. She was given an autograph book in which each had written her particular wish for her in her new home and school.

Appears on TV Show
Erland Stevens Jr., of Arlington, Va., who appeared on the TV program "What's My Line?" last Sunday night is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erland Stevens Sr., who are well known here.

Mrs. Stevens Sr. is the former Dorothy Miller of Stone Ridge and a graduate of Kingston High School and of the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing. Stevens "stumped" the panel by his occupation of painting the fire hydrants in the town of Arlington during his summer vacation.

Stevens is a junior at Penn State College, Pa., and is majoring in metallurgy. His grandmothers, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, lives in Kingston and he is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Muller Jr. of Stone Ridge and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheiman of Kerhonkson.

Missing Man Found
Emerson Willes, an elderly man vacationing at Lake Hill, was reported missing Thursday night. State police, members of the Woodstock Fire Department and volunteers began a search. Willes, who was reported missing about 7 p. m. Thursday was located early today. He had apparently become lost in the woods, state police reported.

Work Completed At Moriello Park

NEW PALTZ - Announcement has been made by the board of directors of the Mike Moriello Park that the filter system as well as the construction work on the pool has been completed. Grading and seeding will be done in the very near future.

The bond sales have reached the $11,000 mark, with only $1500 left to go. When the sales are completed, the board feels their loan from the mortgage company will be small enough to be carried with ease.

The season has been extended until Sept. 20 with a lifeguard in attendance from 3-5 p. m. on weekdays, Saturdays from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and Sundays from 12 noon-5 p. m.

Francis Connolly has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Thomas McKinney who resigned last month as a member of the board. Connolly is well known for his experience in the field of recreation, having served as recreation director for the town of New Paltz for several years. Mrs. Sonia Hurley has been appointed secretary. Other members of the board include Mrs. Joyce Weaver, Ashton Hart, president, Jedd Reiser, Anthony Moriello, John Tenaglia, Dr. William Pugliese and Dr. Charles Wolbers.

Home Extension Unit To Meet on Sept. 10

The New Paltz Unit of the Home Extension Service will meet Thursday, Sept. 10, 10:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Michael Canino.

Each member will bring a covered dish or salad. Dessert and beverage will be furnished by a committee.

After the business meeting, Miss Helena Olds will give a talk on "The Care of Your Feet." Mrs. Marion Deyo will accept 1960 membership dues.

BRIDGE

Average Scores Over Experts

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

An average bridge player would have no trouble with today's slam contract. He would have worried about the club suit but eventually he would have played ace and another club and West would have been forced to play the king.

Unfortunately for North and South it was an all-expert game and South had what appeared to be better ideas. He won the first heart in his own hand, drew trumps, cashed both dummy's high spades and king of hearts and ruffed the last heart.

Now South had to attack the club suit. Since West has already shown two spades, six hearts and three diamonds he could not have more than two clubs. South led a low club and West had no trouble playing the eight. It takes considerable intestinal fortitude to blank a king that way but West had it.

South played dummy's nine. East won with the ten and led back the deuce. South played low and West's unguarded king set the hand.

Iovine, Popfinger Lead at Monticello

MONTICELLO — Dapper Pat Iovine, hemmestatched Brooklyn-born harness driver, has moved into a tie as the winningest driver at Monticello Raceway as the meet passed the 10-week mark Thursday.

Iovine, a 34-year-old pilot who won 21 races last year, already has brought home 28 at the Monticello track.

In 154 starts he has 71 in the money, including 22 seconds and 21 thirds.

He is tied with young William Popfinger, 23-year-old Wexford, Pa., whiz, who has been to the races 168 times this year with an across-the-board mark of 28-21-26 for 75 times in the money.

Norman Stephens, newly located Monticelloite, where he is busy developing a training farm, ranks third within easy striking distance of the leaders. Norm has 24 wins in 114 starts. He has been second 17 times and third 14 trips.

Rounding out the five leaders are Don Wilson with 17 wins and Frank Taylor with 16. Carmine Abbatiello also has 16.

Among the provisional or apprentice drivers Robert Campbell has one of the top marks. In 18 times out he has 15 in the money, including five wins.

The driver-rankings have a long way to go, continuing along with the extended racing meet at Monticello through September 19. The season will include 81 nights and two daytime events. Next matinee is Saturday, Sept. 5, when day and night racing will be staged.

Wrens Capture Title In Jaycee Little League

Jon Vel and Robert Chilson combined to pitch the Wrens to a 6-0 victory over the Eagles in a Jaycee Little League contest yesterday. The hurlers allowed the losers only three hits as the Wrens captured the Jaycee title.

The winners scored twice in the first frame and then added insurance markers in the fourth and three in the fifth to clinch the verdict and the championship.

Tom Brown had a pair of doubles for the Eagles in an attempt to keep them in the contest. Chilson also had two doubles and Barry Miller and Bill Hoxey had one each.

Kingston Protest Disallowed; Locals at Stewart Saturday

It's official now. The Poughkeepsie Hoe-Bowls defeated the Kingston Braves last week and now need only one win to clinch the New York-New Jersey Baseball League pennant.

Last night, a protest submitted by Fred Davi of the Braves was disallowed by a league arbitration board. Davi had protested because he claimed Plate Umpire Maurice McDermott had misinterpreted a Riverview Field ground rule. However, the board felt that McDermott did not give a wrong decision on the rule and voted to let the final decision stand.

The board was composed of Ken Stewart, Staatsburg School principal; George "Mike" Cady, Pleasant Valley Fire Chief and a leading sports figure in Dutchess County; William Bartlett, president of the Interstate Baseball League; and Stanley Varyas, president of the Dutchess County Old Timers' Association. Davi represented the Kingston club, appearing for Poughkeepsie were Manager Walt Bentson, John Babiarz, Jerry Terpening and George Dutcher. Charles J. Tiano, president of the league, presided.

Kingston will close its regular season this week with a game at Stewart Air Base, Newburgh. The Braves had clinched second place in the circuit while the Jets are fighting to escape the cellar.

Other games this week find Beacon at Spring Valley and Nyack at Poughkeepsie on Saturday and Stewart at Beacon in a Sunday attraction.

Glenerie Bridge Club Winners

Miss Marie Degenhardt and Earl Yohnell of Poughkeepsie won first place on the North-South side with a 63½ game as the Glenerie Bridge Club held its monthly master point game at the Kingston Jewish Community Center. More than 50 players from the Hudson Valley competed.

Joseph Zahtila, Hyde Park and Syl Gintell, Stormville, placed first on the East-West side with a 66½ game.

On the North-South side, second place was won by Mrs. Harold Rakov and Mrs. Charles Walton, Kingston, with a 57½ game

Weary Giants to Meet LA Nine Chisox, Tribe Set to Collide

Three Game Series Vital to Both Clubs In NL Flag Race

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's weary Giants, their sluggers sluggish and their National League lead shaved to two games by three losses within 24 hours, open a three-game showdown series at Los Angeles tonight against the rested second-place Dodgers.

Manager Bill Rigney, angry at being forced into a make-up afternoon doubleheader that brought a double defeat at Philadelphia Thursday, picked his ace, Sam Jones (16-12), to face Giant-killer Don Drysdale (15-9) in the series opener.

The Dodgers, 3-5 against San Francisco at the Coliseum but holding a 9-7 season edge, picked up a full game while idle for the second straight day as the last place Phils swept the Giants 7-2 and 2-1. Third-place Milwaukee, 3½ games back going into a three-game series at Chicago today, gained only a half-game on San Francisco, losing 5-4 at St. Louis.

Cincinnati tied Chicago for fifth, beating the Cubs 5-0 in the only other NL game Thursday.

Criticism Grows
With his Giants losing four of their last five and their lead chopped in half in four days, Rigney didn't do much tonight biting while criticizing NL President Warren Giles in the re-scheduling of Sunday's rained-out doubleheader at Philadelphia.

"You'd think we were a last place club," said Rigney, "the consideration we were given. We weren't even consulted."

The Giants, beaten 5-4 in 10 innings at Pittsburgh Wednesday night checked into Philadelphia at 2:30 a.m. Thursday and were in uniform 8½ hours later.

The Phils, who had lost six straight, beat lefty Mike McCormick (11-11) for the first time this season in the opener.

In the second game, Willie Mays smacked his 22nd homer in the first inning, but the Giants then were blanked on five hits by Don Cardwell (8-7) and Dick Farrell.

Al Worthington (2-3) lost it, giving up both runs in the first on a walk, Joe Koppe's single, Ed Bouchee's sacrifice fly and a two-out single by Wally Post.

Boyer Stars
Ken Boyer drove in four runs, three with his 24th homer, and Joe Cunningham scored three and had four hits as the Cards knocked off the Braves after trailing 4-0. Cunningham's triple and Boyer's sacrifice fly beat reliever Don McMahon (4-2) in the eighth. Lindy McDaniel (14-11) won it in relief. Bobby Avila and Joe Adcock homered for the Braves.

Jim O'Toole, the Reds' southpaw rookie, gained his first major league shutout with a five-hitter and 10 strikeouts against the Cubs for a 4-7 record. Willie Jones drove in three runs, with two doubles and a walk, against loser Art Ceccarelli (4-3).

Cleveland Boasts 7-Game Streak, Harshman to Hurl

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Now comes the moment of truth in that American League pennant race. The Chicago White Sox, their pitching punctured, open a four-game series at Cleveland tonight with only a 1½-game edge over the streaking second-place Indians.

It's right-hander Bob Shaw (13-4), who has won seven of his last eight, for the White Sox against Jack Harshman (5-9), the Indians' surprise southpaw crutch, in the opener, which also gets the two contenders started on a string of seven meetings in 10 days.

Add to Cushion

The White Sox added a half-game to their slim cushion over the Indians, who have won eight in a row, by whipping Boston 5-1 in the only AL game Thursday.

That left the White Sox, tied a pennant for 40 years, with a 76-49 (.608) record to Cleveland's 75-51 (.595) going into the series opener. Chicago, winning nine of 14 games with the Indians, has 29 games left, Cleveland 28.

The Indians, who lost the lead to the White Sox a month ago tonight by splitting a doubleheader with Boston, have the edge going into what could be a fatal four games for Chicago.

While the Sox have played 11 games in the past 10 days, winning seven, the Indians have played but nine, chopping three games off Chicago's 4½-game bulge in that span with their longest winning streak since 1956.

Colavito Hitting

And while Chicago has lost southpaw Billy Pierce to injury and has found ailing Dick Donovan and over-worked ace Early Wynn ineffective, the Indians have perked up behind Rocky Colavito, again hitting home runs, and Harshman, who has taken up the slack left by Herb Score.

The White Sox made it Thursday behind Barry Latman (7-5), who had a four-hit shutout until the ninth, when Ted Williams swatted his 10th home run of the year and the 493rd of his career. Reliever Gerry Staley, working in nine of Chicago's last 12 games, put it away by striking out Pete Daley and Jim Busy after Latman gave up a one-out single and walk.

Johnny Romano, giving regular catcher Sherm Lollar a rest, drove in the first three Sox runs with a pair of singles off loser Frank Baumann (5-3). Ted Kluszewski, late of the Pirates, singled twice in four trips for his first American League hits.

Mike Ferraro pitched and batted the K of C nine to a 5-2 win over the Elks in a Babe Ruth League contest yesterday. Steady Mike hurled a three-hitter and collected that many himself as he stroked two doubles and a single in four appearances. The Knights scored three markers in the first inning and added a pair in the fifth. Ferraro surrendered solo runs in the first and sixth frames to pin the defeat on Hutch Davide.

Adios Claire Sets New Track Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adios Claire, heedless of her rank on the tout board, today holds a world's pacing record of 1:39.45 for a mile.

This time, which she stepped Thursday night in winning the featured Class AA pace at Roosevelt Raceway, is a new mark for 4-year-old mares, pacing on a half-mile track.

Lightly regarded by bettors, Adios Claire paid $17.20.

The previous mark, 2:00 1-5, was set by Belle Acton at Livonia, Mich., in 1957.

Driven by George Phalen for Amroc Stables of Brooklyn, Adios Claire finished 1½ lengths ahead of Bachelor Hanover, Alex Byrd, early leader in the swift event, witted to third.

The oft-argued question of whether pacing of trotting is a better gait will get a test tonight at Monticello Raceway, when two oldtimers clash in a non-betting event.

Tanglefoot, a pacer, and S.S.M., a trotter, were matched in a mile-long race. Both are 14 years old. Other feature race results:

Monticello Raceway — Skeeter Salyer ($12) and Bache Rosecroft ($21.40) won co-featured mile paces.

Batavia Downs — Jimmy Laird ($3.20) won Class A mile trot.

Vernon Downs—Madie Hanover ($9.10) won $2,000 24-Class Trot.

CHAMP AND ACE—Donnie Miller, surprise winner of the summer driving championship at Saratoga Raceway with an average of .335, holds the ace of the current stable, Vic Dale, five-year-old pacer owned by Delno R. Ellis of Kingston, a newcomer to harness racing this year. Miller also will be racing at the Saratoga fall trots, which start Monday night.

Driver Without a Job Earns Saratoga Summer Crown

SARATOGA SPRINGS —

Mark down the story of Donnie Miller winning the summer meet driving championship at Saratoga Raceway as remarkable.

Not that the 48-year-old Miller lacked experience or that he hadn't shown driving ability before.

But Donnie was man without a job when he arrived here in July. He didn't start driving at the meet until he was given a catchmount July 11, the 33rd night of the 69-night meet. He never acquired enough starts to qualify for ranking in the nightly standings published in the program because he never acquired enough until the very last night of the meet. And he had to have the win and one of the two seconds he landed in six starts on last Saturday's closing card to win the title.

Donnie had to have some help to make the grade. Harold Story left him three horses to train and drive when he left for Brandywine in late July. Jack Burke gave him that first catch-drive behind Chestnut Chief. Ed Hughes of Hudson Falls placed Morning Sir in his hands. But Donnie also helped himself by the success he achieved. As a result today finds him with a public stable of 11 horses, led by the five-year-old Vic Dale, a pacer that he drove to victory in three out of four Spa starts and to a new mark of 2:04.

Driving for 30 Years

Miller, born in Lisbon, Ohio, has been driving for 30 years. He trained and drove a powerful pacer of a decade ago in White Mountain Boy, one that went in 1:58 1/5 against the watch at Lexington, Ky., and in 1:59 1/5 in winning a race at Hollywood Park, Calif.

Presently Donnie is living here with his wife, two sons, 16 and four, and a daughter, 12, and he plans to stay not only for the Spa fall trots, which start Monday night, but to winter here as well. His oldest boy is spending his second summer working for the noted thoroughbred stable, Greentree, just across the street from the Raceway.

Miller won the summer meet title with an average of .335, the result of 15 wins, 11 seconds and nine thirds in 72 starts. Howard Parker was second at .326, Don Bromley third at .308, Warren Harp fourth at .298 and Fred LaRouch fifth at .293.

LaRouch achieved something remarkable himself by being the leading race-winning driver at the summer meet for the fourth year in a row. He piloted 36 winners and again was the busiest driver of the meet with 210 starts. Tony Ambo was second in wins with 30.

HOW THEY MEASURE UP FOR BOUT — Here are the statistics on Gene Fullmer and Carmen Basilio for their NBA middleweight championship fight. Bout is scheduled at San Francisco's Cow Palace tonight and can be seen on NBC television network. (AP Wirephoto)

Basilio Is Big Favorite Tonight Against Fullmer in Title Scrap

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer will do their best to clarify the middleweight muddle in a scheduled 15-round match at the San Francisco Cow Palace on Aug. 28.

The show is being televised into the nation's Living Room A. C.'s and pubs with the San Francisco area blacked out.

Basilio and Fullmer, you see, prefer to wage war in the ring rather than before boxing commissions and in courts of law. They fight with fists, not wits.

Neither had anything to do with creating the 160-pound mixup. It was brought about by the avarice of Sugar Ray Robinson, who offered to tackle Basilio for the third time after running out on a return match with Fullmer, but wanted most of the money. The timidity of the New York commission didn't help. It refused to deprive Robinson of the title he hasn't defended in 18 months. Robinson outsmarted himself in playing Basilio against Archie Moore when both walked out on him.

Basilio and Fullmer are fighting for National Boxing Association recognition as champion.

NEITHER HAS ANYTHING remotely approaching a scholarly knowledge of the science of swat. They are maulers who just come to fight. Fullmer will have a four or five-pound pull in the weights and a four-year bulge in age, being 28 to Basilio's 32, but the Chittanooga Clouter at least has a vague understanding of how best to bust backs and is the sharper puncher, which is why this handicapper picks the onion grower to win a decision barring occupational hazards such as cuts. It's pretty much of a pick 'em fight.

Basilio went 30 rounds with Robinson, who is now crowding 40, winning the first one and losing the second under the frightful handicap of a closed eye. Fullmer outbombed Robinson in 15 rounds the first trip, but was hung on the end of a left hook in the fifth round of a second edition. Fullmer kept busy while trying to get Robinson to fulfill his contract, repelled such as Tiger Ralph Jones and Spider Webb.

Basilio has made only two starts since being dethroned by Robinson. He knocked out Art Aragon in eight and stopped somebody named Arley Seifer in three.

WITH PRICES RANGING from $5 to $30, the Cow Palace is scaled to do a capacity of 16,000 people and $250,000. Promoter Benny Ford predicts a $175,000 gate. The telecasting adds $100,000 to the pot.

The first rift between New York and the NBA regarding the middleweight leadership came in 1931, when Mickey Walker vacated the title to go after bigger stars. There were two champions from 1931 until Tony Zale repulsed Georgie Abrams in November, 1941, to clear-cut control.

There has been only one champion from that time until New York and the rest of the country disagreed on Ray Robinson's right to fight where and when he pleases and take all the money.

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP) — The Rahway Valley Railroad, only 14 miles long, was founded in 1897 and has made a profit every year except 1934. Fifteen employees keep its three diesel locomotives running over the all-freight line between here and Roselle Park.

Recommend Upstate Duck Season of Fifty Consecutive Days, 40 for Long Island

ALBANY—Acting within the greater limitations imposed by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service regarding the choice of dates for the 1959 Waterfowl hunting season, New York has recommended an upstate duck season of the maximum permitted 50 consecutive days from Oct. 16 through Dec. 4. Recommended for Long Island was the same 40 days duck season chosen by New Jersey—Nov. 14-Dec. 23—in order to meet the federal requirement of date conformity with a coastal neighbor. The Conservation Department's preferences, disclosed today by Commissioner Harold G. Wilm, now wait final approval in Washington.

"The amount of hunting opportunity is somewhat less than was permitted us last year," Commissioner Wilm said, "because of what the Service describes as a moderate decrease in duck populations resulting from spring nesting failures on the drouth-stricken Central Canadian Plains. Unfortunately, this decrease comes on top of several previous years of declining populations."

According to the Commissioner, the Atlantic States last year were allowed to choose a longer duck season of 60 straight days (or a split season with a penalty of 10% less days) between Oct. 1-Jan. 15 with a bag limit of 4 ducks daily and 8 in possession.

Made Hard Choice

"This year," he said, "we were given our choice between Oct. 7 and Jan. 8 of 50 straight days with limits of 3 and 6, or 40 straight days with limits of 4 and 8, or split seasons in either category with the usual 10% penalty loss in days." "So what we tried to do," he continued, "was select within that framework a 50-days season that would most nearly fit the widely varied flyway patterns used by ducks in New York. A late split season would be more suitable for the Finger Lakes region where canvasbacks and redheads usually arrive late. But since Federal regulations this year permit only one redhead or one canvasback—not one of each—in the bag, a split season would provide comparatively little hunting in the Finger Lakes and would penalize most of the rest of the state where the smaller waters might already be frozen.

"We wanted a later Long Island season than we are able to recommend," Commissioner Wilm said, "but we could do nothing about it because Federal regulations require that Long Island's season correspond either to that chosen by Connecticut or by New Jersey. We chose the New Jersey dates. Otherwise, Long Island would be getting only a 37-day season with a 3-duck bag limit."

"We strongly recommend that the duck season for the Lake Champlain region begin concurrently with the season selected by Vermont and run for 50 days. This also was recommended by the Atlantic Flyway Council. The Fish and Wildlife Service has turned down similar requests by New York in the past but I'm hopeful that this year we may get a favorable action." "As for geese and brant," the Commissioner concluded, "a season of 60 consecutive days is al-

Was Once Champion

Fullmer also had a taste of the middleweight championship when he outpointed Robinson in 1957, but suffered a knockout the same year in a return bout.

Almost all observers here expect a rugged fight going the full distance. Odds of about 10-7 favor Basilio. A poll of sports writers showed 13 favoring the New Yorker and 4 going for Fullmer.

Both are rough, tough battlers who have proved they can take punishment. The 32-year-old Basilio never has been stopped while Fullmer, 28, suffered just the Robinson fifth round knockout.

Basilio said he aimed for a knockout but was conditioned to go the distance. Should the nationally televised fight go 15 rounds, the decision comes from the referee and two judges on the 10-point-must system. The winner of each round gets 10 points and the loser 9 or less depending upon his showing. An even round gives each 10 points.

No Managers Tonight

Basilio's co-managers will not be in his corner for the first time in his nine championship fights. Both Joe Netro and John De John will have ringside seats. They've been under investigation in New York and neither applied for a California license.

Contracts for this fight don't call for a return engagement, but each fighter agreed to meet the man rated No. 1 by the NBA within 90 days. Neither Basilio nor Fullmer have expressed any desire to fight Robinson, who in the past has demanded the major share of the middleweight purses.

U. S. Favored As Davis Cup Play Starts

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The Davis Cup Challenge Round, beginning today, probably will be the last for the rival captains—Perry Jones of the United States and Harry Hopman of Australia. The matches thus will carry special importance for both of them. Each would like to bow out on a victorious note.

"This is my valedictory," says Jones, 71-year-old Los Angeles tennis executive who was persuaded to take the job last year. "I'm turning the reins over to a younger man."

Hopman, 53, winner in eight of 11 Davis Cup campaigns, has indicated he will retire from the game to devote time to a lucrative investment broker's position in Melbourne.

This is probably the weakest team the strict Australian taskmaster has fielded in all his years as captain dating back to 1938.

Neale Fraser, 25, is the only experienced Cup player on the squad and Fraser is faced with the task of beating Peruvian Alex Olmedo in the first singles match at the West Side Tennis Club.

Rod Laver, 21, not long out of junior ranks and never in a challenge round, plays Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, in the second singles. MacKay, although just 23, is competing in his third tennis World Series.

Other members of Hopman's squad are Roy Emerson, 23, who teams with Fraser in doubles; Bob Mark, 22, and juniors Ken Fletcher and Mike Mulligan. None has had more than a sub's status before this year.

Jones picks his squad to score a 5-0 sweep.

Schenectady Club Beaten by Auburn In LL Semi-Finals

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — What makes a Little League star? "Great physical coordination," claims Gene Piotkowski, manager of the Hamtramck, Mich., team. "Exceptional maturity," observes Dr. Creighton Hale, vice president of Little League baseball.

Piotkowski and Hale say that Art Deras of Hamtramck has both. "I don't know, I just get out there and throw," offers Art himself, who is as good with the bat as he is on the mound.

Deras's sixth inning bases-loaded home run Thursday broke up a pitcher's battle between Hamtramck's Sid Cline and Andy Dolan of Kailua, Hawaii. Hamtramck won the game, 7-1, and will meet Auburn, Calif., for the world's title Saturday.

Auburn beat Schenectady, N.Y., 8-1, in the other semifinal Thursday, setting a new series record of seven runs in one inning (first). Deras Tuesday set a new series record of 17 strikeouts and came within one out of a no-hitter.

"He is about the fastest pitcher I've ever seen in Little League," said Hale, who specialized in the physiology of the pre-teen baseball set.

"I haven't run a pitchometer test on him, but I would guess he throws between 65 and 70 miles an hour."

Deras is expected to pitch for Hamtramck against Auburn Saturday and his tremendous speed has made the Michigan boys the heavy favorites to bring the Midwest its first Little League championship.

Thursday's losers — Schenectady and Kailua—meet today for third-place honors.

A woman witness in court had refused to testify on the ground that her testimony might incriminate her.

Surprised because she was a witness for the state, the prosecuting attorney asked if her lawyer had advised her to refuse.

"No," she said, "I learned that on television."

A real old-timer can remember back to the day when breakfast foods and movies were silent.

The man got his girl via a ladder from the second-story window, helped her into the taxicab, and they were off. Said he to the driver breathlessly: "Grand Central Station, New York. How much is the fare?"

"You don't have to pay a cent," the driver replied. "The lady's father took care of that."

Said the lady, shaking hands with the preacher after the service: "Wonderful sermon! Everything you said applied to somebody or other I know."

Sailor Critical After 213 Crash

Robert Cole, 22, Bridgeport, Conn., with the U. S. Navy, was reported in critical condition at Benedictine Hospital today from injuries received early this morning in a motor car accident on Route 213.

State Police from the Kingston station reported Cole, a passenger in a car operated by William Pratt Sr., 45, of Stone Ridge, received a possible fractured skull, right hip and lacerations of the elbow.

It was reported Pratt lost control of his car which was traveling west on Route 213 near High Falls, struck a rock cut and was "wrecked." State police from the Kingston station investigated. Time of the accident was reported as 2:30 a. m. today and Cole was admitted to Benedictine Hospital at 3:30 a. m.

Tear Gas Breaks Up LR Meeting Of School Board

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Choking fumes from tear gas bombs thrown by two white women broke up a routine meeting of the Little Rock School Board Thursday night.

Two bombs were tossed into the foyer of the downtown school headquarters while the board was meeting upstairs. Fumes and smoke spread quickly through the building and the board, a half dozen newsmen and about 20 spectators scrambled out through a rear exit. No one was hurt.

The board has been under verbal assault from segregationists for fostering a token plan of integration for Little Rock high schools.

Leonard Willis, a Negro janitor, said he saw the women push open the front door, toss the bombs inside then flee in a waiting car. Board members wiped away tears and walked two blocks to the offices of the Chamber of Commerce and resumed their meeting behind locked doors.

Student Gets Life

JASPER, Ala. (AP)—A teen-age high school student has been sentenced to life imprisonment for raping his teacher's wife for revenge.

James Harold Herron, 17, was arrested March 24, a short time after Mrs. Erston Bonner said she was attacked.

The youth told police he raped the 26-year-old mother because he wanted to get even with her husband who had expelled him from school.

Car Mishap Fatal

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Douglas Kelley, 22, of Champlain, was killed Thursday night when an automobile in which he was riding left Route 22 on a curve and overturned.

The accident occurred about 20 miles north of here.
